PUBLISHED EVERY MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY

TO CONTRIBUTORS: The pressure upon the genealogical department has become so great, and matter has accumulated to such an extent that it is impossible to insert queries as soon as they are received.

In sending matter to this department the following rules must be absolutely observed:

1. Names and dates must be clearly written. 2. The full name and address of the writer must be given. 3. Make all queries as brief as is consistent with clearness. 4. Write on one side of the paper only. 5. In answering queries, always give the date of the paper, the number of the query and signature. 6. Letters addressed to contributors, to be forwarded, must be sent in blank, stamped envelopes, accompanied by the number of the query and its signature.

Each separate query in a communication must be accompanied by a two-cent stamp.

Has anyone a list of the children of Samuel and Mercy (Rowley) Stone, and of Solomon and Zipporah (Stone) Leete? Was Allen Leet of Benson, Vt. (1790), a descendant of this couple, or possibly of Levi Leete and Lydia (Redfield) Hotchkiss?

ANSWERS

3929. Howitt. F. R. J., July 28, 1897. The correspondent inquires for a family of three brothers and a sister, living in New Hope, Bucks county, in the year 1800, at Waterville wife Martha Warner, Paul of Canada, wife Arabella Frost, about 1796, Thomas, who married Mary Ann Bowne, N. Y., with a sister Sarah, and the family formerly of Windsor. The only answer I found so far was one that spoke of Thos. as Hewett, early in Stonington, Conn., who had a wife, Lydia Tiffer of Rhode Island, married 28, 1799, who married Thomas Hewitt in Stonington, June, 1803, and died June 3, 1806. Two children, Thomas and Lydia, were baptized in Stonington, June 29, 1806. Lately I had occasion to use a Thomas Hewett (spelled Huett of Pleasant Point, Conn., but none of Stonington, who owned a lot of wild land on the borders of Windham and Hampton and Ashford (now the old lines) and sold it to a North Kingstown, R. I., party in 1716. Here may be something of interest on "Hewett" relation. I also, in noting all at hand on the family, find that in Charlestown, a John Hewitt and wife Martha Winter, and a son named Winter, born about 1800, and they were at Marshfield. Only was children were given in this as Winter Hewitt, who grew up, maybe, in Marshfield, and Hannah, in Charlestown, and Sarah Hewitt, who died 1729, leaving two daughters Hannah (3), born 1710, who married 1730 to [illegible] went to Boston 1732. Other children of Marshfield may be of John (2) Hewitt and Martha Winter, and Hannah, and Sarah, and the brothers of 3629 query, and the Frost family. No papers in both cases as allied. Hannah Frost, who married Hewitt, Hewett was born 1677, daughter of Joseph Frost and grandchild of Edmund of Cambridge, a brother of Hannah Frost and Lucy Frost moved to Stratford, Conn. Windsor, Vt., was settled largely by people from the vicinity of Windham County and the Connecticut Valley, near Hartford, that I know of. No one else answered. John Hewitt of Marshfield to some town in that section before the Revolution. C. H. A.

3863. 24, Gallup, Lake, Stephens, C. H. A. Jan. 6, 1908. I am greatly obliged to Mr. B. A. Gallup for the interesting article on the Gallup, Lake families. B. A.

3897. 6, Hazen, Howlett, Abell, French, J. F. N. and C. H. A., Feb. 3, 1908. The question as to whether Lieutenant Francis Peabody had one or two wives, and was the daughter of Reginald (1) Foster, Ipswich, 1638, and she no other husband, as appears in the Peabody Genealogy, page 1046, query 3867, page 3, or whether Lieutenant Francis Peabody had a previous wife, Lydia — as in Peabody Genealogy, page 1046, Hampton, N. H.," Salem, Mass., 1883, page 906, and Mary Foster was previously the wife of Robert Kitchell of Ipswich, 1638, and deeds of Lieutenant Francis Peabody's descendants very many thousands in number.

The "Peabody Genealogy" states that "Lieutenant Francis Peabody, of Ipswich, Hertfordshire, England, born 1614, came to New England in the ship Planter, Nicholas Frantice, master, in 1635. Married Mary Foster. Lived to an advanced age; his will is dated Jan 20, 1680, and proved Aug. 7, 1686, page 1046. Feb. 19, 1907-08. He widowed April 9, 1705. Among his descendants have been men eminent for piety, and distinguished for patriotism, literature and science. His wife was daughter of Reginald Foster, or Forster, whose family resided in Ipswich in 1646, and was the son of the Last Minstrel," and in Marmion."

The editor of the "Peabody Genealogy" was therefore entirely ignorant of any wife "Lydia," and the following quotation shows that he was less familiar with the deed from Lieutenant Peabody, where, according to C. H. A.'s note, "Lydia signs with him."

"Mr. Peabody, it appears first resided at Ipswich, and in the summer of 1653 was one of the original settlers of Hampton, in Norfolk County. When the State lines were run, Hampton was found to be in Rockingham County, N. H., and Salisbury. Being himself, as he says, 'in years and infirmity,' he sold his estate in Hampton to Deacon John Dow, and removed to the north-fifth of the first month (March), 1690, consisting of a dwelling-house and about thirty acres of land, for £25 15s. and must have taken up his residence in Topsfield almost immediately thereafter, as on March 25, 1691, ninth (May's first day, he owned a farm there, next to Richard Dorman's also adjoining a farm of Mr. Robert Kitchell's, which lands he afterwards bought, as appears by bill, will." ("Peabody Genealogy," page 3.)

See also "History of Hampton," edited by C. H. A., is the only known evidence that His wife's name was Lydia. But "now" does not give the "Deed dated as his authority, for we "Lydia signed 1650," indeed, he did not sign it, but Lydia, and the price at £16 13s. Possibly "Dow" found his authority in the original record of the boundaries of Hampton, as given in Hampton "August 30, 1640," which he gives (though the Lydia is not mentioned in the "Peabody Genealogy"), as he must have been in error. "Dow's" record is as follows:

Francis Peabody, twenty-one years old, examining for emigration April 6, 1635, with consent from Mr. Stephen Bachiler, aged in "The Planter, settled at Hampton, 1639, admitted freeman 1642; in 1644 was appointed with two others to lay out lots, and to see to furnishing the meeting-house. When the Commons were divided into one hundred and seventy-six lots, in 1652, three of these were granted to "Bras. Peabody," in the division of meadow, near the beach, three others from "a creek by Mr. Dalton's westward, in the river were allotted to Francis Peabody and Robert Hampton. He sold his house and house-lot over twice (or Baptist Church) now accorded to Robert Tucker, of Exeter, N. H., 1656, which name was Lydia. They were divorced.

Lydia, baptized at Hampton, Aug. 30, 1640. Daniels born Jan. 21, died Dec. 19, 1690, at Topsfield. Samuel, born Jan. 1, 1642, died Dec. 30, 1722, residing Boxford. Born May 8, 1648. "Dow's Hampton," page 944.

The "Peabody Genealogy" shows that Lieutenant Francis Peabody's seventh child and third daughter, born in 1651, also named Lydia (though perhaps life in an error for the "Lydia 1640," mentioned by "Dow" as a sister to Penelope "Lydia 1648," may have previously died), and that his ninth child and fourth daughter, born in 1656, was named Mary. Of her it was born before 1650, John, 1642, William, 1646, and Isaac, 1648, each naming their first daughters Mary; John named his second daughter Lydia, but neither William, nor Isaac, though they had other daughters, names any one Lydia. Joseph, 1644, had no daughter Mary, and named his second daughter Lydia.

As the first daughters of three sons of Francis Peabody were named Mary, it is not unreasonable to think that they were so named for their father's mother, and that Mary Foster, born in England about 1621, died in Topsfield, April 9, 1705, if not earlier and only wife of Francis Peabody, was at least the mother of all his children except Lydia, 1640; the evidence from the "Peabody Genealogy" and "Dow's Hampton," 1893, showing that she could not, as claimed, have been the widow of Daniel Wood.

3932. 3, Morgan, Dymond, N. H. S., Dec. 30, 1901. In Early Probate Records of Connecticut, vol. i., page 245, Manwaring-Richard Treat, &c. John Deming, Robert Webster and John Nott, will dated Feb. 13, 1669, mentions Sarah Deming, wife of John Deming, of Robert Dymond. Elizabeth Deming, sister of John Deming, married Nathaniel Foote and after his death she became the wife of Thomas Welles, a colonial governor of Connecticut. Mrs. Elizabeth (Foote) Welles in her will dated March 28, 1671, calls him "My beloved Brother Mr. John Deming Sen'r."

The history of Wethersfield, Conn., Vol. i., page 215, says: "John Deming, the Settler, received homestead in 1640, a house, barn and five acres land, bounded Hills on east, Robert Seymour, Standish homestead (later the property of Rev. Timothy Stanley) on south, Great Meadow west, Richard Crabb's homestead south. He also bought Richard Belden's homestead in 1643 or earlier (Belden's or Sandy lane and what is now Pitkin street). He gave the Belden property to his son, John, in Feb., 1650-51. Mary Deming, daughter Richard Treat. Goodwin says he died in 1705." Early Probate Records of Connecticut, vol. i., page 245, mentions will of William Goodrich of Hogsneck, England. The will of John Goodrich, Sr., is given on his and that of Ensign William Goodrich 2nd.

3932. 9, Robbins, W. W. N. L., Feb. 3, 1908. I had quite a search once for Acsa Robbins, who married Stephen Keyes on March 7, 1706. She was evidently one of the Chelmsford group, whose family kept dodging westward over the line into Ashford and Pomfret, following towns without giving up all title to land in old Chelmsford, which was divided into Westford before I finished my study. There seemed to be an ancient tribe there who named, according to one tradition, the old Robbins Hill of Chelmsford, and the "Hesters" of the town said the family finally moved away to Canada. I never could find an ancient head as doing. Robert (1) appears to be contemporary of George (1). What the relationship is I could not tell. This family suffered from spelling in the oldest records, being called Roberts and Robinson on occasion, so a search there shall find the first appearance in or near Salem eventually.

George (1) had a wife Mary, in 1667, Mary (3), born that year; Philip (2), 1670; Joseph (4), 1672; Joseph, second wife, Alice, after that date, and had: George (2), 1679, as Mary died 1672. Benjamin (2), 1684; Joseph and Jemima (twins), 1687; Sarah (2) of the probate; Samuel (2), Eleazar (2); and a John (2) are plainly children of this aged George of Chelmsford, whose probate is on record at Cambridge, 1690. Samuel Eleazar and Benjamin had 109 acres, Mary and Sarah, 30 acres meadow he bought of George Taylor of Billerica. Jonathan and Tom named sons George and John, and Sarah married Merrian and James Wasson are the witnesses of the deed, while the agent's mark. (Joseph Estabrook, also a witness). The names are very hard to copy.

Jonathan (2) Robbins, Chelmsford died in Dunstable, 1725, and John and Reuben Robbins and Joshua Fletcher (perhaps father of the Zenas of the deed) were appointed 1726. His widow Margaret, with John Spalding, helped to administer, while Nathaniel and Jonathan (3) Robbins, Jr., and Samuel Robbins, Dunstable, were guardians of the daughter Elizabeth (2), aged sixteen in 1725. Nathaniel (3) was a child of Jonathan (2) Robbins, daughter of John (2) who had a wife named Hannah (2) Farrington, and died in Dunstable, 1667, page 3, as whether Lieutenant Francis Peabody had a previous wife, Lydia — as in Peabody Genealogy, page 1046, Hampton, N. H." Salem, Mass., 1883, page 906, and Mary Foster was previously the wife of Robert Kitchell of Ipswich, 1638, and deeds of Lieutenant Francis Peabody's descendants very many thousands in number.

The "Peabody Genealogy" states that "Lieutenant Francis Peabody, of Ipswich, Hertfordshire, England, born 1614, came to New England in the ship Planter, Nicholas Frantice, master, in 1635. Married Mary Foster. Lived to an advanced age; his will is dated Jan 20, 1680, and proved Aug. 7, 1686, page 1046. Feb. 19, 1907-08. He widowed April 9, 1705. Among his descendants have been men eminent for piety, and distinguished for patriotism, literature and science. His wife was daughter of Reginald Foster, or Forster, whose family resided in Ipswich in 1646, and was the son of the Last Minstrel," and in Marmion."

The editor of the "Peabody Genealogy" was therefore entirely ignorant of any wife "Lydia," and the following quotation shows that he was less familiar with the deed from Lieutenant Peabody, where, according to C. H. A.'s note, "Lydia signs with him."

"Mr. Peabody, it appears first resided at Ipswich, and in the summer of 1653 was one of the original settlers of Hampton, in Norfolk County. When the State lines were run, Hampton was found to be in Rockingham County, N. H., and Salisbury. Being himself, as he says, 'in years and infirmity,' he sold his estate in Hampton to Deacon John Dow, and removed to the north-fifth of the first month (March), 1690, consisting of a dwelling-house and about thirty acres of land, for £25 15s. and must have taken up his residence in Topsfield almost immediately thereafter, as on March 25, 1691, ninth (May's first day, he owned a farm there, next to Richard Dorman's also adjoining a farm of Mr. Robert Kitchell's, which lands he afterwards bought, as appears by bill, will." ("Peabody Genealogy," page 3.)

See also "History of Hampton," edited by C. H. A., is the only known evidence that His wife's name was Lydia. But "now" does not give the "Deed dated as his authority, for we "Lydia signed 1650," indeed, he did not sign it, but Lydia, and the price at £16 13s. Possibly "Dow" found his authority in the original record of the boundaries of Hampton, as given in Hampton "August 30, 1640," which he gives (though the Lydia is not mentioned in the "Peabody Genealogy"), as he must have been in error. "Dow's" record is as follows:

Francis Peabody, twenty-one years old, examining for emigration April 6, 1635, with consent from Mr. Stephen Bachiler, aged in "The Planter, settled at Hampton, 1639, admitted freeman 1642; in 1644 was appointed with two others to lay out lots, and to see to furnishing the meeting-house. When the Commons were divided into one hundred and seventy-six lots, in 1652, three of these were granted to "Bras. Peabody," in the division of meadow, near the beach, three others from "a creek by Mr. Dalton's westward, in the river were allotted to Francis Peabody and Robert Hampton. He sold his house and house-lot over twice (or Baptist Church) now accorded to Robert Tucker, of Exeter, N. H., 1656, which name was Lydia. They were divorced.

Lydia, baptized at Hampton, Aug. 30, 1640. Daniels born Jan. 21, died Dec. 19, 1690, at Topsfield. Samuel, born Jan. 1, 1642, died Dec. 30, 1722, residing Boxford. Born May 8, 1648. "Dow's Hampton," page 944.

The "Peabody Genealogy" shows that Lieutenant Francis Peabody's seventh child and third daughter, born in 1651, also named Lydia (though perhaps life in an error for the "Lydia 1640," mentioned by "Dow" as a sister to Penelope "Lydia 1648," may have previously died), and that his ninth child and fourth daughter, born in 1656, was named Mary. Of her it was born before 1650, John, 1642, William, 1646, Isaac, 1648, each naming their first daughters Mary; John named his second daughter Lydia, but neither William, nor Isaac, though they had other daughters, names any one Lydia. Joseph, 1644, had no daughter Mary, and named his second daughter Lydia.

As the first daughters of three sons of Francis Peabody were named Mary, it is not unreasonable to think that they were so named for their father's mother, and that Mary Foster, born in England about 1621, died in Topsfield, April 9, 1705, if not earlier and only wife of Francis Peabody, was at least the mother of all his children except Lydia, 1640; the evidence from the "Peabody Genealogy" and "Dow's Hampton," 1893, showing that she could not, as claimed, have been the widow of Daniel Wood.

3932. 9, Morgan, Dymond, N. H. S., Dec. 30, 1901. In Early Probate Records of Connecticut, vol. i., page 245, Manwaring-Richard Treat, &c. John Deming, Robert Webster and John Nott, will dated Feb. 13, 1669, mentions Sarah Deming, wife of John Deming, of Robert Dymond. Elizabeth Deming, sister of John Deming, married Nathaniel Foote and after his death she became the wife of Thomas Welles, a colonial governor of Connecticut. Mrs. Elizabeth (Foote) Welles in her will dated March 28, 1671, calls him "My beloved Brother Mr. John Deming Sen'r."

The history of Wethersfield, Conn., Vol. i., page 215, says: "John Deming, the Settler, received homestead in 1640, a house, barn and five acres land, bounded Hills on east, Robert Seymour, Standish homestead (later the property of Rev. Timothy Stanley) on south, Great Meadow west, Richard Crabb's homestead south. He also bought Richard Belden's homestead in 1643 or earlier (Belden's or Sandy lane and what is now Pitkin street). He gave the Belden property to his son, John, in Feb., 1650-51. Mary Deming, daughter Richard Treat. Goodwin says he died in 1705." Early Probate Records of Connecticut, vol. i., page 245, mentions will of William Goodrich of Hogsneck, England. The will of John Goodrich, Sr., is given on his and that of Ensign William Goodrich 2nd.

3932. 9, Robbins, W. W. N. L., Feb. 3, 1908. I had quite a search once for Acsa Robbins, who married Stephen Keyes on March 7, 1706. She was evidently one of the Chelmsford group, whose family kept dodging westward over the line into Ashford and Pomfret, following towns without giving up all title to land in old Chelmsford, which was divided into Westford before I finished my study. There seemed to be an ancient tribe there who named, according to one tradition, the old Robbins Hill of Chelmsford, and the "Hesters" of the town said the family finally moved away to Canada. I never could find an ancient head as doing. Robert (1) appears to be contemporary of George (1). What the relationship is I could not tell. This family suffered from spelling in the oldest records, being called Roberts and Robinson on occasion, so a search there shall find the first appearance in or near Salem eventually.

Note *1079. Fuller. Some time ago the ancestry was desired of Mathew Fuller. He has been called son of Edward Fuller, and by many desirous of Mayflower ancestors accepted as such. Proof to the contrary is found in the following: Dr. Mathew Fuller was born 1603, son of John Fuller of Redenhall Parish, Norfolk County, Eng., and was nephew of Edward and Dr. Samuel Fuller, who came in the Mayflower. Mathew Fuller came to Plymouth between 1640 and 1650, long after both uncles were dead. (This from editor Genealogical Department, Hartford Times.)

The will of Robert Fuller appears in the Norfolk Archdeaconry Court, Norwich Register, 1614, folio 259, dated May 19, 1614, proven May 31, 1614, by widow Frances and afterward by son Thomas. Bequests made to sons Edward, Thomas and Samuel, three daughters and grandson John, son of his son John. John of Redenhall was father of Mathew. The Fullers were living in Redenhall in 1482 and 1488. John and William were freeholders. In 1508 William and John, Jr., were grantees in a deed of land in Redenhall, and a copy of this deed may be seen in the Egerton manuscript, 2713, folio 7, British Museum. (9572) Sturges. Mr. Winslow's Historical Magazine states this statement, page 196: "Joshua Holmes of Westerly before 1744 married his daughter Abigail acquainted with Peter Sturges of Yarmouth, whose home he visited with intervening journeys until they were married, Nov. 21, 1698. Miss Sturges was the daughter of Edward Sturges, who came from Gloucester in 1634 and settled in Yarmouth. He was the son of Philip Sturges of Northampton, England." etc.

If so, could Edward, son of Philip, Sturges, came to Yarmouth in 1639 and that he had a son Edward (2nd) who was born about 1642 or 1643? Peter cannot be Edward 3d and it seems very unlikely that his father was also an early settler. Judge Winslow's published genealogies fail to seem to have covered this. Was Peter Sturges born presumably 1675-1680? Was he married to Abigail Holmes and a Temperance Graham of Marlborough and Sudbury? J. F. W.

(9571) Kemp-Butler. Mr. Father James Kemp, and his mother, Sarah (Hall) Kemp, sailed from London for America in the year 1825. At one time, while in London they lived at Islington, at another time Kensington, and just before leaving London they lived at No. 5 Keppel street, Russell square. Mr. Father had a seal ring dated at which was a crest and heads in the middle of the seal was the word "Wiseman Wood," and on the other in the middle of the seal was the letters and the following motto: "Ne quid nimis." Can some one give us the English ancestry and any particulars if necessary. M. H. H.

(9570) 1. Can some one give us the address of historical societies in Essex County and the surrounding towns?

ANSWERS

(9569) 2 Winslow-Fisher. R. H. W. D. Dec. 28, 1907. Having since had correspondence direct with some of the former querists who have been particularly interested in this subject, they agree with me that our Ezra who is listed at New Lebanon, N. Y., cannot be the son of Job and Elizabeth, born in Dighton, Mass., in 1750. So back to this latter Job, there is to break or question, but bark of who is only answers. It seems to be agreed by those who have looked into the matter that the only available Job on record seems to be Job (4) (James 3, Nathaniel 2, Josiah 1), born in Bristol, Sept. 7, 1712; but with no further record of him in the "Winslow Genealogy."

Job (4) Winslow, of Bristol, when or where he died, seems to know, and who married, Sept. 29, 1743, Elizabeth Fisher, daughter of Rev. Nathaniel Fisher, had children as follows: Job, b. Aug. 1, 1744; Nathaniel, b. 1747; Jeremiah, Aug. 10, 1747; Elizabeth, bap. 10, 1752; Job Jr., July 19, 1754. The last was married in 1781 by Rev. Ezra Stiles Smith to Mary Atwood, born Oct. 20, 1755, died Feb. 12, 1835, she was daughter of Silvester and Dorothy (Bowers) Atwood, married again late in life (1800) and had three children; George and Jane, by a second wife. This Job, son of Job (4), was Colonel's commission in the French and Indian wars, and died of land in Florida for service. Sally Winslow, b. Boston, May 12, 1780, daughter of Job, Jr., and Mary Atwood, married Henry B. Stevens and had Henry Winslow Stevens. The Stevens, Atwoods and Winslows of this family will recall how Henry Winslow Stevens was a Revolutionary soldier, died April 2, 1823, and is buried in Wyoming County, N. Y. He enlisted in Dighton and went to New York state early in life, he was pensioned and service is recorded.

Will Phillips Jr. notes, handed me by one who has given the subject considerable attention, but the would has not yet definitely developed into a "Winslow" genealogy here. He certainly married Temperance Hooton of Amherst, Conn., and probably certain that she died in Boston, N. Y. He commanded a company of militia, who during the Revolutionary War had the battle of Bunker Hill, and probably see page 304 record of Connecticut men in the Revolutions and is the same Job who commanded what is known as the Revolution on Long Island Sound and the Hudson River.

1-9-07, son of Kenelm 1 had: Job (4) born Summer, July 10, 1682, no further record.

Job (4) (James 3, Job 2, Kenelm 1) had Job Jr., born May 30, 1715, died Aug. 1736, Margaret Bartlett, went to Falmouth, Me., Had daughters.

Job (4) (Edward 3, Nathaniel 2) born Sept. 7, 1712, in Rochester, Mass., see vol xxvi, Genealogical Register, page 72, also vol. xxvii, page 357. Most likely man for Job, 4e.

Job (4) (Joseph 3, Job 2), born Sept. 7, 1748, Sarah Wrightington, died Aug. 1, 1791(?) born Nov. 17, 1738, died Dec. 14, 1801, married first, Temperance Hayden, second, Mary Rogers. If correct, named for Job, 4e.

Job (4) (Edward 4, Josiah 3, Kenelm 2, Kenelm 1), married June 4, 1762, Junior major of the Second Regiment Militia, Bristol County, Mass. Thomas Gilbert of Taunton, colonel. Job Winslow of Dighton, lieutenant-colonel. Job Winslow, who was a captain in the French and Indian Wars, married Lucretia Gilbert, daughter of Uriah and Sarah Gilbert.

2. Kempton, Wright. Calvin Kempton, born March 7, 1767, married Isabella Wright. Their son Calvin married Betsy Kempton and wife Catherine Bayer. He lived from Meriden, 1862, to Richmond, New Hampshire, and died there. Son of the name in Richmond, N. H. I desire the children's ancestry, so far as I can get it.

4. Newkirk, Van Kleeck. Wanted, any information and the ancestry of Captain John Newkirk, who married ——Van Kleeck and is buried Van Kleeck. He was from Orange County and was captain under the command of Colonel Jacob Ward, Colonel Thomas Ward, and Major Ward, all of the militia in the Minisink Valley. L. F. D.

(9572) Sturges. Mr. Winslow's Historical Magazine states this statement, page 196: "Joshua Holmes of Westerly before 1744 married his daughter Abigail acquainted with Peter Sturges of Yarmouth, whose home he visited with intervening journeys until they were married, Nov. 21, 1698. Miss Sturges was the daughter of Edward Sturges, who came from Gloucester in 1634 and settled in Yarmouth. He was the son of Philip Sturges of Northampton, England." etc.

If so, could Edward, son of Philip, Sturges, came to Yarmouth in 1639 and that he had a son Edward (2nd) who was born about 1642 or 1643? Peter cannot be Edward 3d and it seems very unlikely that his father was also an early settler. Judge Winslow's published genealogies fail to seem to have covered this. Was Peter Sturges born presumably 1675-1680? Was he married to Abigail Holmes and a Temperance Graham of Marlborough and Sudbury? J. F. W.

(9571) Kemp-Butler. Mr. Father James Kemp, and his mother, Sarah (Hall) Kemp, sailed from London for America in the year 1825. At one time, while in London they lived at Islington, at another time Kensington, and just before leaving London they lived at No. 5 Keppel street, Russell square. Mr. Father had a seal ring dated at which was a crest and heads in the middle of the seal was the word "Wiseman Wood," and on the other in the middle of the seal was the letters and the following motto: "Ne quid nimis." Can some one give us the English ancestry and any particulars if necessary. M. H. H.

The ancestors of Elizabeth Vose, wife of Deacon John Wadsworth, were [illegible] Vose, [illegible] Vose, —— supposed to be Wyatt, and perhaps sister of Waitstill Wyatt, who married his brother Benjamin Vose. Also the family lived in Milton, sons of Robert Vose, son of Thomas of Ganston, England, near Devereux.

6. Haven. Daniel Haven, born in Framingham, June 16, 1708, married Mehitabel Haven, born Dec. 28, 1710. She was born Aug. 23, 1709, and was the daughter of Elkanah Haven and Abiel (Barber) Haven of Framingham. Her son Elkanah was the son of John Haven and Hannah (Hutchinson) Haven of Lynn.

They were married Dec. 23, 1662. The said John Haven was the son of Richard Haven and wife, Susanna. They settled in Lynn, Mass., on a farm near Flax Pond. His will dated May 21, 1701, probated June 24, 1701. Both Daniel Haven and wife Mehitabel have one common ancestor in Richard Haven. N. R. H. P.

(9569) 1. Smith-W. L. G., Feb. 17, 1908. In Needham there are Smiths from 1711 to 1800. The records printed in late numbers of New England Register? I think Woodstock, Conn., Tolland and Willington, had many men from Needham and Roxbury. In looking for your Smiths will you see if you can give the parentage of Lydia Smith, who in 1742, is spoken of in her grandfather's will [illegible] of Needham. NOTES

Answer to Note 9567, Norton, G. C. N., Jan. 20 1908. Can if C. N. tell me anything about Sarah Norton, who married Salisbury, 1685, Deacon John (3) Daggett (Thomas 2, John 1) and had: Mayhew, Ebenezer Thomas, Nathaniel, Abigail, Josiah, Patience, Mary? Deacon John Daggett died 1729, and Dec. 18, 1735, she married Barnabas Capron, losing his third wife. If burial place is unknown.

Answer to Note 9568, Crabtree, L. F. C. N., Jan. 27, 1908. I wish to thank L. F. C. N. for the full and complete answer to my note, which undoubtedly contains much that will be of interest to many others. I desire to ask further, who was the Captain Agreen Crabtree, who as master of the private armed schooner Hannah and Molly on Sept. 20, 1777, captured by Matthew, an armed ship, a brig, two schooners and a sloop in the port of Liverpool, Nova Scotia. For The New Hampshire Gazette of Exeter (Excluding Morning Chronicle, Tuesday, Nov. 26, 1776. Also who was the Agreen Crabtree who on Aug. 1, 1775, was granted a letter of marque for the schooner Harlequin by Massachusetts? See "Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors of the Revolution," vol. i., page 59. This application was signed by Agreen Crabtree of Boston. Also "Thomas Rose," an authority cited in the above-named answer, was one Agreen Crabtree was a staunch adherent of the mother country.

Answer to Note 9569, Fuller, H. W., Feb. 17, 1908. I know this has been a very important matter to Matthew, based on the statement that Matthew was "nearest of kin"—in a certain one case—but I do not think that one conclusive. I wish the Matthew-Seeley would investigate more fully Otis' writing more years back, that Edward Fuller as father to Matthew, giving a certain deed, which, I fear, is barred. This deed would give Matthew Seeley title to Bridge Street property. Matthew Seeley was born of the colony—of "the old servants"—and in the list to Rosebred White-born Seeley, Matthew Seeley, for his wife Elizabeth Allen and others, all leading back to those in first ships, and none of the pieces of land in Plymouth Colony with Mr. Bowman could be heard from. Certainly no one is more successful in discovering old deeds than Matthew Seeley, of children, with Mayflower ancestry. Alden Mellows, Hopkins, Brewster, date in all, one now more years back, that of Answer to Note *1079. Fuller. H. I. W., Feb. 17, 1908. I know this has been given as parentage of Matthew, based on the statement that Matthew was "nearest of kin"—to a certain one man—but it does not seem to me conclusive. I wish the Mayflower Society would investigate more fully. Otis, writing many years back, claims Edward Fuller as father to Matthew, giving a certain deed, which, I fear, is burned. Then the General Court of Plymouth gives to first born of the colony—of "the old servants"—and in the list is Resolved White—born other side—William Pabodie, for his wife Elizabeth Alden and others, all leading back to those in first ships, and none nephews or nieces of the first comers. I wish Mr. Bowman could be heard from. Certainly no one is more successful in discovering the truth of the old records. My children, with Mayflower ancestry: Alden Molines, Hopkins, Brewster, eight in all, does not need Edward and Ann of the Mayflower, but the articles in the New England Registry do not seem to me to prove all that is claimed for them. Matthew Fuller might have been son of Edward, and this one who says nearest of kin may have forgotten those that came earlier. At any rate, I am waiting for proof and more than has been given. M. L. She refused, thinking he was only speaking, adding that the date was about 1848 in the birthday of her father, Sarah Bolles Tucker. Edward E. B. H. gives partial answer to these earlier queries. I have been obliged to leave before seeing all of the records of the Friendly, and this city all have been written out and published. Lou. I would like to supply Sarah with a book about the records. Dear Dixie of Stonington, Conn., published in 1902, has many items of interest. Jeffrey Dow, of same locality, is the only Abigail, dau. Benjamin, of Ebenezer and Lydia Dow, Jan. 12, 1752, married. What is the authority for Abigail Prince (maiden name unknown) being the mother of the children mentioned above? I will attend to the handing of the letter to Sarah, if I ultimately for the first.

Amelia Wilson, daughter of Ashley, married May 12, 1874, Rev. Thomas M. Clark, son of Joshua Lyon Clarke and Ann Maria Lyon, daughter of Hon. Lyon of Plattsburg, N. Y. Mrs. Clark died last born and died at Frankfort, Ohio. Joshua Peirce had a brother John Valentine and his sister was Elizabeth Valentine probably daughter of James Valentine, father was John Steward, son of John from north Switzerland, the French part. Have found that name Valentine on the Steward. Can Elizabeth Valentine be traced to John (1) Valentine of Boston son of Thomas of Frankfort [illegible] grandsons Samuel and William Valentine, married Winslow. Shall be grateful for any aid on Bell, Wilson, Reynolds, Steward lines.

Comment on Note *785. Adams. B. F. G., Sept. 18, 1905. I am trying to find the line of Rufus Fuller ad his wife, Abigail Adams. William H. Fuller of Palmer, Mass., thinks Rufus cannot be descended from either Samuel or Edward of Mayflower—as he has never seen either name in all the data he has looked at, but there were many by the name in the Attleboro line of Fullers, but I know that the name of Abagail Adams is often found in the Braintree Adams line. John Boss, born in Braintree, Oct. 26, 1658, married, first, Abagail Adams, daughter of Joseph and Abagail (Baxter) Adams. I shall be glad to learn of any of the family who may be able to help me, and grateful for suggestions. I am not able to employ a genealogist, and have poor library facilities in the way of genealogical matter. I am desirous of finding a good Colonial ancestor in either the Fuller or Adams line. I have before now got much help from the Transcript when looking up my husband's lines. We have the Willard memoirs in printed form, but I got a great deal of help on the Lynch, Willoughby, Digby, Newdigate, Hosmer and Mayhew lines. M. C. N.

(11762) Heath. I have the note from war-bill 11, asking to learn the pension of a widow of the Heath family who died in Maine at the time of the Revolution. During the Revolutionary War there were in Whitefield, Me., three Heath families, one that Heath and an Asa Heath. Two of the all of them were soldiers in the war. The census of 1790 also gives an Asa Heath, and says all the above and children less than six years old except Asa Heath. Asa Heath received a pension for service in War, and a copy of his application for same is on file at the Pension Office in Washington says he was born in Baldwin in September, 1776. The record indicate plainly that they were from New Hampshire, and perhaps were Scotsmen, one of their children, Asa (2), was in the War of 1812. Who were their ancestors in New Hampshire?

(21751.) 1. Swain, Nason & Austin's "One Hundred Sixty Added Families says that Sarah (3) Swain, (John 2, Richard 1), born 1670-1, married Joseph (3) Norton, (Joseph 2, Nicholas 1) of Martha's Vineyard, and died 1748. Sarah (3) Swain, married, first, Sarah (4) Smith, second, Mary Green, daughter of Charles Green of Marblehead, Mass., and widow of Matthew Pease. It is presumed that he was the Joseph who died in 1754. He is credited with children: Hannah, born in 1695, died March 1, 1776; Enoch, born in 1702, married Dec. 21 1726, Mercetah Bodfish, and died Garfield June 19, 1768; Samuel, Isaac, and six daughters—names not given. This record is to be verified. Isaac and I are exceedingly anxious to get it straightened out because my direct ancestry is involved. If Sarah (3) Swain was the wife, first, of Joseph (3) Norton, was she the mother of Thomas Norton who married Lettuce Pease? If so, when did she die and when did Joseph Norton marry Mary (Green) Pease? What were the names of the daughters?

2. Dayton, Norton. Abstract of Will of Henry Dutch, Brook Haven, L. I., dated Dec. 1, 1720. Proved Nov. 29, 1721. Mentions wife, Abigail—Sly Smallwood Jones that I purchased of Peter now in the tenure of Justus Horatio"; "where my son Norton Dutch lives"; Henry, Phebe and Henry Dutch all that farm or tract of land in New England that as now lives on" Appoint as executors "my trusty friend George Tucker"; "in my well beloved son David Dutch all land in Easthampton in the County of Gloucester, 1841 1 bought of Jeremiah Andrews"; son Abraham, "one bought of Caleb Tucker"; wife and appleton with Liana Tucker; eldest daughter Abigail Dutch; sons Peter, Henry, Cutherine Executors: Colonel William Smith, Timothy Jerson, wife Abigail, and sons Morton, David and Abraham. "Last that I had of Moses Hurnit—lands herein mentioned Dakota, etc., hereinbefore and Residuary Clause. Witnesses: William Oatman, Henry Jowny, Robert Shaw. Proved March 16, 1722. Liber 37, page 20.

From the above it will be seen that Henry Dayton married Abigail, one of such and such a name Norton, and one of the executors of his will was Timothy Jerson. Was Abigail, wife of Henry Dayton, a Norton before her marriage? and if so what was her ancestry? Was Timothy Jerson related to one of the executors of Henry Dayton's will?

Farmer, Timothy, Norton, Mary Mc-Clellan, Stephen, of Truro, and Mary (Cole) Norton, married April, 1761, Sarah Norton, Judge Oxtell she had. Jacob. Ancestor Pa; Mary Jerusha; Sarah; Hannah; Lydia. Which children was by person and which by Tanner?

3. Converse, Norton, Mary Converse, daughter of Deborah Thomas and Mary (Morse) Converse, baptized Dec. 23, 1702, married Norton, and had as her 8th and Norton children: Sylvester or Sylvanus, Tyson, Sally Converse and Mary. They were of Pembroke, Mass. Deborah (7) Norton (Mary 6, Thomas 5, Thomas 4, Thomas 3, Joseph 2, Joseph 1) Shapard, Family, Mary Shapard was born in 1700, the following as descendants of Abigail Lord, said of Edward Shapard of Cambridge: Zilla Abigail was born in 1731, married, 1751, married Daniel son of Samuel and Mary Reed of Boston. Which child was by Reed and which by Tanner?

William and Sarah Cook moved from Rochester to Dover, Mass., in 1795; they had a son Jonathan who married Mary Gonsilve of Dr. Charles Turrell, and a William, who married Mary Trowbridge. *674. Ide. C. W. F., Dec. 15, 1909. The correspondent says, "My answer of June 30, 1909, was not complete. It should have read, Samuel (3) (Samuel 2, Edward 1)." I think he is in error. Samuel (3), who married Dorothy Willmarth Dec. 16, 1701, was son of Samuel (2), who married Mary Ide, Dec. 12, 1673, and he was a son of Robert, born in England, came to America in ship Bevis, 1638, lived at Salem and Rehoboth, Mass.; married Sarah ——? She died Oct. 14, 1676, and he married, second, Mrs. Margaret Waller. She died Jan. 30, 1700. Children: Jonathan, about 1640; Elizabeth, about 1645; John, about 1647; Samuel, about 1649, married Mary Ide; Abigail, about 1653; Benjamin, about 1657. It is possible that this has been answered, if so, I have not seen it.

There were eight ancestral Fullers, Dr. Samuel and his brother, Edward, of the Mayflower, 1630; John of Ipswich, and William of Hampton, N. H., 1634. Thomas of Dedham, and John of Newton, 1635. Robert of Salem, and Thomas of Woburn, 1638. Robert of Dorchester, afterwards Dedham, 1640.

(9762.) Here. I should be very grateful to anyone who would assist me in looking up the ancestry of wife of William Hyde (now deceased) to have been born in Coventry, Conn., (the published records of that town give no such name, however), July 14, 1779, died Oct. 16, 1847, at Franklin, N. Their children were: Adeline, married William Butterfield; Abigail, married John Langdon Kingsbury; Almeria, married James Irwin; William Charles, married Susan Hardy; George, married Julia Morgan; Alice, married Joseph L. Lawrence; Harvey Ann, married George Kingsbury. Among William Hyde's effects was a bible (not entirely complete, the fly leaves not mentioned) in 1832 by his mother, Lydia Hyde. It was said to have been brought from Canada to New York, sixteen years before, and the death of her husband four years later. The name is supposed to have been William. W., if they have any data that will give so many Chamberlain items if they have any knowledge of the youngest and, probably, eldest son, Henry Chamberlain, the Quaker. Jane born in Newport, R. (9772.) Here. I should be very grateful to anyone who would assist me in looking up the ancestry of wife of William Hyde (now deceased) to have been born in Coventry, Conn., (the published records of that town give no such name, however), July 14, 1779, died Oct. 16, 1847, at Franklin, N. Y. She married Alice Marshall of Billerica, Mass., April 22, 1810. Their children were: Adeline, married William Butterfield; Abigail, married John Langdon Kingsbury; Almeria, married James Irwin; William Charles, married Susan Hardy; George, married Julia Morgan; Alice, married Joseph L. Lawrence; Harvey Ann, married George Kingsbury. Among William Hyde's effects was a bible (not entirely complete, the fly leaves not mentioned) in 1832 by his mother, Lydia Hyde. It was said to have been brought from Canada to New York, sixteen years before, and the death of her husband four years later. The name is supposed to have been William. She also mentioned that her father's name was Hyde and was living at the time, and Charles. From other sources we find the names of the daughters, Betsey, Katie, Lydia and Annie.

(9700. 3. Crow. J. F. T., Sept. 24, 1909. Will of Thomas Warriner, dated Aug. 1, 1711. It is over a year and a half old, but I have been unable to find any answer, and I feel that a copy would be valuable. There is no doubt in my mind that a mistake is made in the name and surname, and in the part of it that refers to John Warner of Boston and Marion (Harvey) Lockhart of Harvard, who are mentioned in the article by C. H. A., Oct. 15, 1910, further than the general printed statement that there are no authenticated anything appearing over that signature, but I am somewhat interested in Thomas Warriner, of Lynn, and Salem, Mass., and would be glad to see any information that I can get. I am not willing to admit that "Savage" misled those two gentlemen who were evidently Warriners, but I don't think he "erred" Elisabeth (Crow) Warren in any way.

We may consider without doubt that Elisabeth Crow married William Warriner, but I would like to know the authority for saying that the widow of William Warriner was named Elisabeth, and I do not get those three William Warrens with a passing, especially when considered in connection with the date of the will first quoted in the article by J. F. T.

Daniel Webster commonly so memorable "Reply to Hayne," Jan. 26, 1830, by adding "for the reading of the letter from which it was being debated, so that the strongest matter of the same might be brought up, and its fire against Mr. Hayne would be well to have the will of William Warriner before us. I quote from Savage's Genealogical, page 218.

William Warren, Hardwick, inventory taken Dec. 1, 1756, will dated Oct. 1686. "I William Warren, son of Hartford do make this my last will. I give to his brother William the Land North of the Pits. I give to him the use of 20 Apple trees, to the field of them, the Northernmost ones, for the space of ten years after the date of this my Will, provided he pay fifty to my brother Thomas Warren. I give to my son Thomas Warren two worsted Cows, to be delivered to him one spring, and the other the spring after my brother William gives his time of apprenticeship is ended. I give to my daughter Elizabeth Crow, provided she be single at the time of my decease, to be paid to her by my Executors, the sum of £20 in Money. I give to my daughter Mary Warren, provided she be single at the time of my decease, towards the bringing up of my youngest son, the sum of £10

*1836. 4. Richardson. W. H. M. A., Aug. 21, 1911. Since receiving above communication I have seen fit to follow the clew then given, and as the ancient records remained readily I am now prepared to guarantee the line: Edward (1) Colburn (Cobin, Coburn) of Boxford, 1685; Edward, John (2) (no wife Sarah ——; Peter (3) and Sarah (3) Dodge Varnum, and I understand that Peter married, second, Rebecca Fletcher. Whatever may serve to the limits of the locality called Dunstable, which was all in Pelham after the reëstablishment of the boundary line in 1741, as a good portion still remained in Dracut. I have already stated that John (2) conveyed in 1722 (deed 16:142) to his son Edward and, ——, John Colburn, mondat east on Beaver brook, west on lane from land on John Wilson, and south on "Colburn's farme." Plainly, the way to investigate this land is to give attention not only thereto, but to the one known abutting owner.

John (2) died, the holding his land until his son, conveyed it by will to his son Peter (3), in 1797. We have no knowledge of investory or otherwise at the time of the transfer to the latter, but will look subsequently in the proper lands. Peter (3) conveyed the land April 6, 1797 (deed 186:-) to "my only brother Edward Colburn, Jr." being "all my lands and buildings in Dracut," about one hundred and sixty acres, on the westerly side of Beaver brook, to the north of Lane, etc. Next, Peter Jr., wife Elizabeth waiving dower rights, mortgaged a part of the premises Aug. 30, 1803 (deed 208:-) to Isaac Bradley, etc., describing it as "about eighty acres, being the same part of the land my father Peter has been deeded to me April 6, 1797, bounded east on Beaver brook, west on Lane, north on said Williams's other land (being the seventh lot), and south on John Colburn, William Bradley and said Peter Colburn, Jr., in his warranty, in 1797, we again have the bounds: "East on Beaver brook, south on John Colburn, and on Long Pond; south on John Colburn, and north on Caleb Parker and Timothy Williams. By the John's decree, March 6, 1779, all the land was set to Simeon Wilkins and the heir of Christopher Wilkins, late of Chamberlin, Aug. 13, 1815, in 1805, ye. of age.

His no sincerity of plea,

HALOS AND RAINBOWS

The Varied Forms Assumed by These Phenomena

[From the Scientific American]

The correspondence columns of the scientific journals have been opened with letters from persons who have witnessed one or another of the optical phenomena which are known as halos, and describing the same in such a way as to give the impression that they have never opened a book on optics. Strange to say, these letters frequently come from men who are more or less prominent in the scientific world. One can hardly escape the conclusion that a large number of the majority—of physicists, meteorologists and astronomers have profited little by the instruction that is given in the Mechanic, Partner and other students of elementary optics.

There is, for example, a particularly beautiful form of halo—the "circumzenithal arc"—which is rarely seen, but which is described by persons who like report their experience as if the phenomenon in question was one of which they had never heard, and which they are consequently anxious to call by the correct name or bring into relation with other luminous features. A description of this kind appeared in Nature for May 11, 1911 (page 315). The writer, who evidently had not the slightest acquaintance with the terminology of optics, referred to what he had seen as a "rainbow." Strange to say, the editor calmly consented in this apparent blasphemy, and published the letter under the heading, "A Zenith Rainbow" notwithstanding the fact that he knows a note on the same page, by a well known meteorologist the correct name was applied to the phenomenon.

Several forms of halo are decidedly common, and few people escape the attention of the casual observer. At the observatory of Montpellier, near Paris, where halos are systematically watched by the circumnitral are was seen on 111 days in twenty years, or about one day in thirty-three.

The Bakerian lecturer who has occasion to mention a cabal does not call it "a large brown shadowed with a hump on the back." He gives time and the phenomenon is described in terms of the utmost intelligibility, as saying that "observers constantly report the they have seen in the sky A luminous appearance of such a color, a size, and shape, along with other particulars that may or may not be mentioned, and then the sun, or moon, if which is nearly, or they have witnessed the [illegible] Sometimes, some other luminous [illegible] that ought to be there to make a perfect [illegible] to the majority of educated people.

Mr. Archibald Barrington believes that its readers will welcome the appearance in its columns, in the near future, of a series of illustrated plain and worded articles on the optical phenomena of the atmosphere.

ABOUT PENNSYLVANIA APPLEJACK

[From the Philadelphia Record]

There is promise of a comparative Applejack in York County this year. The season's 14,000 bushels of apples will be more than twice the apple brandy distillery of William Foust, in Springhill township. There are indications that over one hundred barrels of apple brandy will be made, which leader of previous seasons. Last year about 5000 bushels of apples were received at the distillery.

TO CONTRIBUTORS: Matter for the Genealogical department has accumulated to such an extent that it is impossible to insert queries as soon as they are received. In sending matter to this department the following rules must be absolutely observed:

1. Names and dates must be clearly written. 2. The full name and address of the writer must be given. 3. Make all queries brief and clear. 4. Write on one side of the paper only. Do not use postal cards. 5. In answering queries, the date of the paper, the number of the query and the signature must be given. Answers will be published soon after receipt. 6. All letters received are presumably for publication, but if they are to be forwarded to contributors they must be sent in blank, stamped envelopes, accompanied by the number of the query and its signature.

As most of our correspondents do not care to reply to letters excepting through the Transcript, it is unnecessary to ask the editor if he has forwarded mail as requested. Do not send letters to be forwarded excepting in accordance with Rule 6. Remember that a blank, stamped envelope must be used.

(*2332.) Perry. The question as to the identification of Elizabeth ——, wife of Samuel Perry of Stratford, Conn. (Arthur 2, Arthur 1, Boston) has been brought to my notice. A close scrutiny of Orcutt's "Genealogies of Stratford," reveals several facts which have not been of the proper age and who are unidentified. Further, the similarity of the names seems to indicate that she might have belonged to the family of Mary Wheeler, Sr., of Stratford. The eldest child of Samuel and Elizabeth Perry was born in August, 1715, the marriage must have taken place about 1712. They had two sons named Moses and James, names used in the Perry family. Moses Wheeler, Sr., and his wife, Mirlam Hawley, had a son, Moses, who married Sarah, daughter of Caleb Nicoll, b. 1674. They had a Moses and a Miriam among their nine children, the latter Elizabeth, born 1687. If she at the age of twenty-five married Samuel Perry, it would have been natural that, having a grandfather Moses, father Moses and uncle Moses as well as brother James and uncle James (Blakeman) who married Miriam Wheeler, she should have given those names to her sons. Ariah Jarvis Blakeman, married in 1657, had a daughter, Elizabeth, born probably between 1663-66. She, too, would have carried the same names into her family. Can anyone furnish the record of these two Elizabeths to prove or to disprove this theory?

2. Baker. Who was Abigail Baker, who married Jedidiah (3) Hurd of Woodbury, Conn., in 1747? Jedidiah Hurd was son of John (2) Hurd, born 1674, grandson of John Hurd, great-grandson of John Hurd (1) Hurd, who went to Stratford, Conn., in 1639. John (2) Hurd married, about 1700, Elizabeth ——, and their first child, Abigail, she was resident in Woodbury or Stratford, Jedidiah (3) Hurd removed from Woodbury to Adams, Mass., where his daughter Elizabeth married Justus or Justice Blakeslee.

3. Clark. Can C. G. H. H. or H. W. B. S. tell me to which family Mary Clark of Preston belonged? Could he have been the one John born to John (3) and Rebecca (Beamont) Clark, June 21, 1695, and great-grandson of Representative John Clark of Cambridge, Hartford, Farms and Stafford? He had been in Preston, in 1718, for several years. Had daughters Dorothy and Dorothy, baptized there, April 28, 1716. Had also sons John and Joseph. His wife was Deborah ——, did she belong to the family of John Clark of New London, who died 1675, his executors and children named; was Mr. Brother the second husband of Temperance (3) (Cushman) Gillett (Nathaniel 4, Isaac 3, 2, Thomas 1) Cushman? Was Mr. Brother the father of Mary Brother, who married Joseph Lincoln, Samuel (3) Lincoln of Windham, Conn., married, June 2, 1692, Elizabeth Jacobs. He was surveyor of the North End of the town. Samuel (2) Lincoln, his son, was born, Dec. 27, 1702, from Huntington. Among my notes I find the quotation: "Their descendants claim to have originated in Hingham and were entitled to some consideration." Samuel (2) lived to be one hundred and one years old. Nathaniel Lincoln, a grandson, reached the age of 101 years and 7 months; is buried in Windham. He was a cooper by trade, and presented six grandsisters with a cedar pucker which he made when he was one hundred and fifth birthday. Can someone connect this branch of the Lincolns with the Hingham Lincolns or the Samuel Lincoln, father and son, Samuel Lincoln, married in Hingham, Eng., Aug. 24, 1637, or Samuel Lincoln, who came to this country with Francis Lawe, who sailed from England April 8, 1637? J. E. N.

(*2334.) Robbins, Dill, in Groton, Mass., records in a list of marriages written in the town clerk from Chelmsford there appears the following: "Robert Robbins and Mary Dill entered into a covenant of marriage before Mr. Thomas Clark, ye 27 of March 1677." Additional names, births, marriages and deaths, page 208, quoting from records of the late Samuel Sewall, state that Robert Robbins, Jr., married, on March 26, 1691, Mary, daughter of Peter and Tranka (Shapard) Dill. This Mary was living in 1710, but on Jan. 3, 1720-21, Robert Robbins of Litchfield widow Elizabeth. Elizabeth Cummins of Groton, she survived him. In Bed Supt. C. 1910, Concord, Mass., records give the children of Peter and Thanka Dill; among them is Mary, born March 27, 1662, so that the above records are correct. She was married on her 37th month. Nothing further is known about her, but state that Josiah Barrett of Chelmsford and Mary Dill of Concord were married on Feb. 20, 1716-17. In addition to Mary, page 30, folio 347, is a deed from the heirs of Peter Dill, 1716, mentioning that the deed of Thanka Dill, relict of Peter Dill; Judith Barrett of Littleton and Mary Barrett, alias Lell, late wife, and Peter Dill, all children and heirs of Peter Dill. Therefore, this Mary could not have been the wife of Robert Robbins, Jr., query, who were the parents of the Mary Dill who did marry Robbins?

2. Cheney. Deacon Thomas John (3) Cheleraft came to Pembroke, N. H., about 1730. Wanted, date of his marriage, name of his wife and his ancestry.

3. Mooney, Mooney, Mooney (3) Gilman 4, Deacon John (2) Chelman, born 1749, married Margaret Jones. Wanted, her ancestry and date of marriage.

4. Grant, Warner, Nathaniel (6) (Samuel 5, Matthew 4, Matthew 3, Matthew 2, Matthew 1). Wanted, her ancestry. Any information on the above queries will be greatly appreciated. E. S. P. H.

His son, Townsend, was born 1760, died 1860; her ancestry and children died 1860 or 1; at Wright's Corner, and had a daughter Sarah Dickinson, who was Townsend's mother, with full dates on all. Will be much appreciated. Townsend was the War of 1812.

*1193. 21 Pierson, K. G. S., Oct. 20, 1911. Your data coincides with mine, only that I have that Deacon John Pierson came to America, which is still run by descendants (1876). This Deacon John Pierson (from Lynn, Mass., England and Lancashire) is often confused with a Deacon John Pierson (Rev.) from Yorkshire, England, and who came to Lynn, in 1631, came to Reading in 1639, taking a prominent part in affairs of that town, and died in Reading in 1678, and without much doubt Deacon John and Rev. Abraham were brethren and Thomas and Henry Pierson (Pierson) He had ex wife Mandlin (Mandlin) Pierson, b. Sept. 16, 1911. Asel (9) Pierson born in Cumberland County, New Jersey, in 1795, lived in Reading, Penn., and died in Reading in 1878, and without much doubt was the son of Rev. Abraham Pierson, Lynn,

THE MAN FROM NOWHERE

HIS ADVENTURES IN THE HURLY-BURLY OF CHICAGO

Always on the Spot Where the Talk Is Most Forceful—A Pat Word for Every Situation—The Inside Facts Regarding the World-Famous Correspondents

[From the Chicago Tribune]

A great calm brooded over the Congress Hotel and Michigan avenue yesterday. The storm center had moved from it to the Coliseum, taking most of the battling hosts, caucus followers, orators, and war correspondents. The committee rooms and headquarters on the second floor of the hotel looked like the deserted camps over which the conflict had raged and passed on to fresh fields of carnage. Campaign buttons had been flattened out by the steam roller and left on the field of glory littered in the fatal hospitals and weakly asked for the latest news from the front.

Except for the naked wound pounding out where they had been great men standing during the fierce fighting. Souvenir hunters prowled resolutely over the old battle ground surreptitiously picking up a flag, or a button, or some other memento of the war. Country visitors and local residents who had tried in vain to get tickets to the Coliseum strolled up and down the lobbies talking it all over.

About the only familiar figure visible was the serious faced Man from Nowhere, who has been making an heroic effort to drink on all the alcoholic stimulants in Chicago and who has been a constant source of wonder to those who have stood about in the lobbies during these last few nefarious days of savaging to save our glorious republic.

But every time a group of patriots endeavored by sober appeals to reason to storm the nation back from the abyss into which it is sinking the Man from Nowhere, brave, sad, serious, and with the air of authority, shouted himself into the middle of the throng and, holding one hand aloft, commanded silence and secured it merely because of his regal mien. Then the Man from Nowhere would say:

"Gentlemen, what did the last river say to Rhode when he handed off the Brooklyn Bridge? Why, gentlemen, the river said: 'I am your father.'"

With the bow of a Roman emperor the Man from Nowhere would then retire only to land in the middle of another circle, ex-

NOTES

Note "1428 Atwood. The much-desired line of Stevens Atwood is still unsolved, but I have additional records of his descendants and a theory which perhaps may be verified by someone near the Massachusetts records. The naming of the generations in Rhode Island is fairly well-worked leaves me with nothing but my own books.

Eastham baptisms, plus some private records, give the children of Stevens and Rhoda (Stevens) Atwood as: Rowland, Rhoda-Reese, Robert, Kare-Sorrs, Rebecca-Reese, Peebe, Nancy-Ann-Reese and Stevens, with another Stevens who died in infancy. Most of these are recorded in Eastham's Natural Life, Vol. 1, page 301, and all. Of the above Stevens, Jr., born in Boston, May 8, 1776, married in Eastham, Jan. 1, 1794, Anna Mayo, daughter of Captain Reuben and Hannah (Cole) Cole, lived in Frankfort, Maine, and six children follow later. Rhoda-Sears Atwood married Barnabas Freeman, lived in Falmouth, Mass. Any information will be gratefully received. R. H. B. W.

A. S. R. H.

(2831.) I. Lettevall. I desire to thank those who have in any given me help, and to the Fitchburg and Leominster Public Library I am anxious to have the following corrections made: This name was changed from version of my family give Odin a royal descent. Will someone who knows it be kind enough to send me a line?

Fuller. What is the line of descent of Benjamin Fuller, born June 8, 1717, from Mayflower ancestry? Name of the wife of Mayflower ancestor Benjamin Fuller married Judith Smith.

Cross. The intention to marry of Benjamin Cross and Hannie Davis was recorded at Conway, Mass., March 27, 1787. I would be very glad to get her ancestry.

Hyams. In 1902 E. T. A. noted in the Transcript that Mary Magdalen Hyams came in Oneida County, N. Y. Ernestine Cross married Asher Tracy, near Utica, in 1811 (or some other date; see the Evans one). A. Cross. Maurice, Levi Cross, born March 24, 1800, married Clarissa Cross, married Elizabeth Beck at New Canaan, N. Y. The inscription on the tombstone of a daughter of Levi reads: "Sacred to the memory of Mary Cross, daughter of Moulton and Annie Cross. SAMUEL PAGE

Information bearing on the case of Samuel Page, which interests many of our readers, will soon appear in the department from researches made by a well-known genealogist

(2835.) Atwood. The much-desired line of Stevens Atwood is still unsolved, but I have additional records of his descendants and a theory which perhaps may be verified by someone near the Massachusetts records. The naming of the generations in Rhode Island is fairly well-worked leaves me with nothing but my own books.

Eastham baptisms, plus some private records, give the children of Stevens and Rhoda (Stevens) Atwood as: Rowland, Rhoda-Reese, Robert, Kare-Sorrs, Rebecca-Reese, Peebe, Nancy-Ann-Reese and Stevens, with another Stevens who died in infancy. Most of these are recorded in Eastham's Natural Life, Vol. 1, page 301, and all. Of the above Stevens, Jr., born in Boston, May 8, 1776, married in Eastham, Jan. 1, 1794, Anna Mayo, daughter of Captain Reuben and Hannah (Cole) Cole, lived in Frankfort, Maine, and six children follow later. Rhoda-Sears Atwood married Barnabas Freeman, lived in Falmouth, Mass. Any information will be gratefully received. R. H. B. W.

(2836.) Atwood. Stevens Atwood married Deborah Tuttle, born Aug. 30, 1768, and Deborah, Martha, Robert and Charles-Wesley Atwood. Ezra Atwood married Hannah Tuttle, born Aug. 30, 1768, and Ezra, Robert Atwood married Anna Jones and his children are given later. Others resided in Fairfield and it is believed that the two daughters named just before died there, one near Lisbon. It is said all the Fairfield Atwood gravestones copied for me, also the town records, and when they arrive I will see to them that they include not only Stevens Atwood, Sr.'s descendants but also those of his brother, Nathan. Can the latter be identified by old people who knew them personally?

Stevens Atwood died May, 1810, aged sixty-seven; Rhoda, wife of Stevens Atwood, died September, 1821, and seventy-two. (But a very old family Bible says: Born Oct. 11, 1764, died Sept. 8, 1821.) Their three Ezra Atwood, son of Stevens, died Feb. 3, 1861, aged seventy-six. Robert Atwood, son of Stevens, died Dec. 14, 1862, aged seventy-three. Ezra Atwood, son of Stevens, died Feb. 3, 1861, aged seventy-six. Robert Atwood, son of Stevens, died Dec. 14, 1862, aged seventy-three. Rhoda Knowles, wife of Hemian Atwood, died Oct. 1, 1812, aged sixty-one. Phebe Knowles, wife of Hemian Atwood, died Oct. 1, 1812, aged sixty-one. Ezra Atwood, son of Hemian, died Sept. 30, 1813, aged twenty-one. Rhoda Atwood, wife of Hemian Atwood, died Sept. 30, 1813, aged twenty-one. Mary Atwood, wife of Hemian, Jr., died May 15, 1822, aged twenty-one. Sarah, second wife of Hemian Atwood, Jr., died May 15, 1822, aged twenty-one. Hemian Atwood, Jr., died May 15, 1822, aged twenty-one. Nathaniel Atwood, died July 13, 1813, aged twenty-three. Mary, second daughter of Hemian Atwood, died June 13, 1847, aged fifty-four. Sophia, third wife of Nathaniel Atwood, died Oct. 19, 1876, aged eighty-two. William Atwood, son of Hemian, Jr., died Aug. 31, 1849, aged forty-two. Sophia, third wife of Nathaniel Atwood, died Oct. 19, 1876, aged eighty-two years eight months. Abigail, wife of Hemian Atwood, died June 13, 1847, aged eighty-one years six months. Rufus B. Atwood, son of William by his second wife, died Aug. 31, 1849, aged forty-two. Franklin B. Atwood, son of Hemian, died March 3, 1840, aged twenty-three. The above are not literal transcripts of the inscriptions, but the substance of them. I was told that there were also some stones of young children, and names of others, but could not find them. I should be the following from the Fairfield Town Records: Hemian Atwood, born July 13, 1774, and Phebe Knowles, born Aug. 17, 1777. Children: Nathaniel, born April 3, 1797; Frances, born June 21, 1798; Rufus, born Aug. 30, 1799; Hemian, Jr., born Nov. 1, 1799; Abigail, born May 7, 1801; Sophia, born Dec. 29, 1803; Mary, born Aug. 28, 1805; Sarah, born Aug. 18, 1807; Rhoda, born Oct. 1, 1809; Lucy, 1792. BLEAK HOUSE SOLD

Bleak House, Broadstairs, famous as the residence of Charles Dickens, who wrote "David Copperfield" and other novels there, was sold at the Mart yesterday by Messrs. Wallnock & Co. of Madden street. There was very keen bidding, and eventually the property was knocked down for £5,000 to a Surrey doctor, who intends to occupy the house.

Bleak House has been in the market for many years, and successful bidders have rarely been made to dispose of it during the past two years. Wilkie Collins resided there for some time, and Gladstone was one of his famous visitors.

The house, which is very picturesque, stands in a considerable position on the cliff overlooking the town and harbor. It has charming gardens, and is well known to visitors at Broadstairs.—London Telegraph.

One of my contributors for the missing brother was Barnabas, based among other inhabitants upon a Barnabas Freeman appearing in the Eastham Census next to Stevens and Richard. There was also a Richard (4), aged 0—7, and a Rhoda (5) Bethiah (Crowell) Atwood, born in Eastham, April 25, 1713, died there, Jan. 1, 1802, in his fifty-ninth year. He married, first, Abigail, who died in Eastham, Oct. 6, 1790, in her forty-fifth year, and, secondly, Priscilla Freeman. Who was Abigail? Joint Vital Records say she was Abigail Stevens, daughter of Richard, born 1713, which would account for the two sons and daughter named for Stevens Atwood's family. The Freeman marriage is also opportune, since the family name was getting more closely allied in the Freemans than the marriage of Rhoda Atwood to Barnabas Freeman alone. Both Freemans were from Truro to Nathaniel (6) son of Malchiel (3), born 1711. We do not know either he married, but we know how Malchiel's family went to Boston, how later his widow, Mary, and John went to Providence, R. I., and just about the same time we find Samuel Atwood, who had been living in Boston, going to Providence. Perhaps he married in Providence. John and son of Malchiel. If so, it was perfectly possible for his father Nathaniel to have married in Stevens, in brief. I have seven Nathaniels whose sons or grandsons be eligible, and I have all of the Malchiels prove false clews, then there are still the Joshuas. I incline to think that some of the Plymouth Atwoods started in Providence and Dorcas worked backward from Stevens Atwood, Sr., to Providence from the names alone. Unable to determine anything for myself from a lack of records, I offer the theory for criticism. F. M. E.

MEETINGS

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE RAY STATE HISTORICAL LEAGUE

Over one hundred members of the Ray State Historical League, sent to Natick at the invitation of the Natick Historical Society, the annual meeting of the League, held in the rooms of the Natick Historical Association by special invitation. The meeting was called for eight o'clock, but the train was late in leaving Boston and it was about nine o'clock by the time the visitors had lined and gathered in the hall of the Natick Historical Rooms. The customary reports were read, showing that the League is in a flourishing condition, and the following officers reelected to the choice of the following:

For President—Charles G. Clark of Hyde Park.
For Vice Presidents—Lucius P. Paramenter of Arlington.
For Secretary—Chandler Barbour of Wellesley.
For Treasurer—Frederick W. Hamilton of Somerville.
For Executive Committee—Prof. C. Eddy of Allendale; John Albro of Hopkinton; Charles Hutchinson of Boston; Mrs. Ellen Hyde of Framingham.

Ice cream and cake were served after the meeting, and the next meeting of the League will be held on Sunday and Monday after looking over the collection of the local association.

The Catholic bishops of France have taken steps to arrange the question of cheap and healthy homes for the people. They have asked the clergy to exhibit the facts in conferences and lectures, and thus gradually form a strong feeling in favor of reform.

(*2631.) 1. Lentworth. I desire to thank those who have so kindly given me help in filling in the Paine-Carpenter and Lentworth lines. I am anxious to have the Edward Lentworth ancestry. My correspondence from members of my family give him a royal descent. Will someone who knows give it in the Transcript?

2. Cross . I have in my notes a David Cross, born 1728, who married a sister of Lewis Cass, and whose daughters married Prescott, the historian, but with no dates given. Can someone place this David Cross?

3. Fuller. What is the line of descent of Benjamin Fuller, born June 6, 1717, from Edward Fuller, twenty-first signer of the Mayflower compact? Benjamin Fuller married Judith Smith.

(*3226.) Salter, Mulberry. Jack Rawson, Wanted, the ancestry of (1) Mr. Salter and Mulberry families. Jonathan Jackson of Boston, born Dec. 24, 1672, married Mary Salter, March 28, 1706. His grandson, Jonathan Jackson, built the house on High street, Newburyport, known as the Dexter House, was born in Boston, June 4, 1746. Was Mary (Salter) Jackson, a relative of Malachi Salter, who went from Boston and settled in Halifax, N. S., soon after 1760? In letter written in 1759, from Halifax to his wife who was visiting relatives in Boston Mr. Salter sends a message to his sister, Mrs. Jackson. Malachi Salter married Susan Mulberry, daughter of Captain Mulberry, the master of a ship sailing from Boston for many years. He took a cargo of fish to the Mediterranean, from thence oil and currants to London, returned to Boston, having spent just one year on his voyage. Would like to know if anything is known of either family. Malachi Salter died in Halifax, 1781, aged sixty-four years. Susan (Mulberry) Salter, died at Halifax, 1764, aged sixty-eight years, buried in old St. Paul's burying ground.

Lived in Plaistow and they later lived in Plaistow, Hampstead records have Judith Gile and Ruth Brittania, married December 6, 1794. Joshua Gile and Hannah Morrill married May 5, 1796. (*3232.) Fuller, Standish, Young. Edward (1) Fuller of Mayflower had son Samuel (2), who was married in Scituate by Captain Miles Standish April 8, 1635, to Jane Lathrop, daughter of Rev. John (1) Lathrop.

Thomas (3) Fuller, son of Samuel (2) Fuller, Sr., born May 18, 1650, married, Dec. 29, 1680, Elizabeth Lathrop.

Whom did Samuel (4) marry? Was it Mary Blodgett of Woburn (Samuel 3, Samuel 2, Thomas 1?

Had Samuel (4) and Mary (Blodgett) Fuller a daughter Sarah (5) Fuller who married, first, John Merrill, married, second, Dyer Loomis, who was born 1727 in Columbia, Conn. and who died 1766 in Stafford, Conn., where were born his seven children? After Dyer's death widow Sarah married, third, —— Fuller; fourth, —— Green; fifth, —— Rood. She lived to be ninety-eight years old. (Authority, Mr. E. S. Loomis, Berea, Ohio).

Mayflower Descendant, vol. iv., page 226, gives record: "Matthew Fuller and Patience Young married by Justice Skiff 25 Feb. 1692." Were they parents of Jerusha Fuller referred to in following marriage notice: Miles Standish and Jerusha Fuller daughter of Mathew Fuller Nov. 2, 1737 (see Mansfield, Conn., records, page 238).

Church records at Ashfield, Mass., give following: "Wife of Miles Standish died Oct. 10, 1772, ae. 70," which indicates 1702 as date of birth.

Mansfield records give child of Miles and Jerusha Fuller Standish: Israel, born April 22, 1738.

Greenfield, Mass., records show grant from Daniel Alden, Jr., to Israel Standish, land in Ashfield, Dec. 12, 1760.

Sara Standish, daughter of Israel and Sara Standish, born Nov. 5, 1767.

Israel Standish, of Israel and Sara Standish, born June 11, 1773.

The county clerk at Greenfield supplies an addition: Elizabeth Standish, born Sept. 25, 1770, daughter of Israel and Sara Standish. She was married by Elder Ebenezer Smith at Ashfield, July 3, 1794, to John Lummis.

Israel Standish served in the Revolution under a fellow-townsman, Captain Benjamin Phillips, whose company was mainly composed of Ashfield men. For service see Massachusetts Soldiers and Sailors in Revolution, vol. xiv., p. 812.

Desired: Ancestry in all branches of Miles Standish and Jerusha Fuller, his wife: of Sara —— Standish, wife of Israel, and of Sarah Fuller, wife of Dyer Loomis. Will gladly reciprocate so far as possible.

*9210. 2. Hoar. R. L. K., Sept. 28, 1913. The correspondent in West Iowa gives wife of John Hoar as Alice Sidney, daughter of Lady Alice Lisle, but there is a mistake that John Lord Lisle was her father, but that Philip Sidney, the Puritan commander, was her father. I have spent much time to search in National Dictionary of Biography, the new Encyclopedia Britannica, etc., and have been able to find no evidence of it. Senator C. F. Hoar in his autobiography of Hoar says Hoar's ancestor to the home of John Lord Lisle of Moyle Court, and the time I have studied it I know John Lord Lisle as father of Bridget, who married Leonard Hoar, and Mathilda Urban, but nothing is said of Alice Hoar, who married John Hoar. The General Register, Vol. XXXIII, page 277, says wife of Lady Alicia and John Lord Lisle. It is as given on memorial stone of the widow Alicia Hoar, mother of John and Leonard. The will of Lady Alice speaks of children of Lord Lisle, daughters, but does not make no mention of Alice. Lady Alicia was a second wife. If I remember, and Alice may have been daughter by a former husband, but I have found no record.

I know many books on the Hoar Genealogy; give Alice as probably sister of Bridget, and perhaps one or two as step-sister, but no evidence has been found.

Will E. L. K. please give proof of Alice, who married John Hoar, and her ancestry of Philip Sidney, and where record can be found?

National Dictionary of Biography says John Lord Lisle married twice, first wife being the widow Alice Sidney, daughter and chief heiress of the common pleas, and second wife, Alice.

*9704. 2. Smith. K. G. M., Sept. 23, 1913. The ancestry of Mary Smith is given in "Dunham Genealogy," published by Professor Isaac W. Dunham in 1907. I hope it may be of help to K. G. M.

In the published list of passengers by the Ann Mayflower in 1635, appears the name of John Goodman, who was reported to have been a stow-away. He is to have died during the first winter. There were after the arrival of the first settlers, an additional number of passengers listed as the "unsorted men of the plantation," as ordered by the ordinance of the colonial council. Of these were distributed, Governor Bradford describing in his own handwriting, as follows: "Some to work for [illegible] Peter Browne, John Goodman, William Bressey, [illegible] Thomas Brown." John Billington, Isaac Allerton, Francis Cooke, Edward Winslow. The John Smith, who died in 1681, by chance. Historians state that these lots were awarded to John Goodman and others. John Goodman, if a single man, could not hold a garden plot. John Dunham was a married man, and provision was made for his family. He was a proprietor of Rise Brewster's Purchase, Duxbury, and it would be natural to give those adjoining lots, as Governor Bradford reports. As above, 1644, John Dunham received a grant of land for nurturing his cattle. As late as 1652, cattle were sold under the name of "Goodman's" during late year cattle were advertised as "Goodman's Steers." These are supposed to be the property of Deacon John Dunham. As early as 1637, John Dunham's name appears on the day list for 3 shillings, and Miles Standish, 14 shillings. Not only had grants been given to him, but from 1636-38 he had the recipient of a special grant, being the firstborn of one of the old comers. Intelligent information concerning John Dunham was born in Scrooby, Nottinghamshire, England 1558-9, died 1663, married Abigail Wood, at Leyden, Holland, Oct. 17, 1619. Their children were: John, born at Leyden, Holland, 1620, married Dorothy ——, of Boston, March 14, 1648; Abigail, born at Plymouth, 1622, married Stephen Wood or Atwood (?); Thomas, born in 1625 [illegible] Martha Knott in 1646; Samuel, born 1628, married Mrs. Martha Hallowell, June 23, 1669; Hannah, born 1630, married Giles Rickard, Oct. 21, 1661; Johnathan, born 1632, married Mary [illegible] Nov. 21, 1653; Perais, born 1635, married first, Benajah Pratt, second, Johnathan Shaw; Nathaniel, born in 1637, married ——— Marcyrest; son, Nathaniel, eldest; John Jackson, Desiring Jackson; Samuel Jackson. Also in 1722, will was proved concerning division of estate, vol. XIV., 290. Nathaniel, Jr., married Hannah [illegible] at least; Nathaniel (4), born Oct. 26, 1705; Joshua, (4), born April 9, 1707; John (4), born Dec. 11, 1708; Samuel (4). Will of Elder Nathaniel Jackson states: "Anthony Elliot, Jr., to be executor by Samuel Appleton, Provisions 1674."

Nathaniel (3) Jackson, born Oct. 26, 1767. Had land conveyed to him by brother Joshua, Aug. 8, 1722, as is more fully noted under Joshua (3). Will proved 1760. New England Register, Rev. William Cooper interviewed summer memorandum. I noted April 14, 1760, married Nathaniel Jackson. Don't just recall whether Rev. Mr. Cooper's interviewed Nathaniel Jackson or not, think I could no real sure. A Nathaniel Jackson and Susannah Jackson married Sarah Hill of Kittery, March 31, 1731. Vol. 1913, page 206, Portsmouth births, marriages and deaths. Nathaniel and Susanna (4). This surname is also given in "Hill Family Records," by Frederick Clifton. The following will taken from Rockingham Probate, N. H., Probate Records probably refers to the above Nathaniel, daughter Sarah Jackson; Susanna Nones; daughter Sarah Rumkin; son Nathaniel; brother John Jackson, executor; signed July 4, 1758; proved Aug. 25, 1758.

Relative to the children of Nathaniel (4) I have no dates of birth or marriage, though probably they are to be found. I looked time to search or look up. Nathaniel, March 14 and Susanna Hill, both the eldest, then born soon after 1727. May have been named for her grandmother, Nathaniel's wife. Sarah, born Portsmouth, March 4, about Portsmouth, or at any rate from Portsmouth, Rockingham, New Hampshire Register, vol. 31, page 179. We learn that "Clement March, keeper of the poorhouse at Portsmouth, N. H., otherwise prominent, married Margaret, daughter of Nathaniel Jackson." Portsmouth records, marriages unknown. She died Feb. 27, 1806. This Clement March is an unsolved mystery as to parentage. Vol. 1913, page 206. The query noted gives facts about him, but not his parentage. Also see Joseph Jackson, C. H. A. in Transcript article of Dec. 15, 1902, gave a study of this man, but only to prove him a descendant of John, but not the second child named, he will of Nathaniel (4), possibly put down with the names of his mother, for Sarah Hill, wife of Nathaniel (4) Jackson, and children of Joseph Hill, Jeremy Hill, and Clement March, husband of Margaret Jackson, daughter of Nathaniel Jackson, Portsmouth, N. H. Probate Records probably refer to the above Nathaniel, brother John Jackson. Hill sketch in Stackpole's "Old Kittery," Sarah Hemlick, brother John Jackson, executor; signed July 4, 1758; proved Aug. 25, 1758.

8. Fuller, White. Was Susanna (Fuller) White (wife of William of the Mayflower) daughter of either Dr. Samuel Fuller or of Edward and Ann Fuller, who were also passengers on the Mayflower? I would like the names of all the chidren of William and Susanna White; also the names of all of the children of their son, Resolved White, and his wife, Judith (Vassall) White. Any items of interest concerning the White and Fuller families will be highly appreciated.

THREE KINDS OF CAPITAL

They Are Described by Professor Small of Chicago at Ford Hall Meeting

"There are three kinds of capital, not finance and management," said Professor Albion W. Small of the University of Chicago, speaking on "The Strength and Weakness of Socialism" Sunday evening at the Ford Hall meeting.

"Anyone with a dollar to the bank is a financier, because he can serve out that dollar again, and so far as its productivity is concerned he has done as well as appear. Somebody else has taken that dollar and done with it all that could be done to make it productive.

"The fundamental troubles that are besetting our country as the times drift toward the second condition. I believe this every week as an industrial plant is going to be reorganized as a partner in that plant, that the fateful swear is going to have prosperity in his job. I believe that two hands will be made, the first of which will respond to the orders at title or no interest. The second will be a hand of the business. I say to those who are Socialists I would say, do not lose sight of the fundamentals of the cause, instead any interference. To those who are not Socialists I would say that the world is sent to its swaddling clothes and naturally will change."

SINGLE TAX IN FIVE YEARS

Professor Johnson Makes This Prediction Before the Typographical Union

Speaking before the Boston Typographical Union Sunday, Professor Lewis Johnson of Harvard University said that the single tax idea will be the general acceptance within five years. "Right here in Boston," he said, "we have an example of how the adoption of the single tax would be a good thing. There are scores of streets with wide areas of vacant land, buildings occupying valuable land, land worth a great deal more than the buildings. Another thing, only half of the available land in Boston is actually occupied by houses.

"With the single tax the land speculators would be compelled to put the vacant land out of use. Also the owners of the valuable land occupied by old buildings would be obliged to improve their land and put up buildings that would enable them to enjoy the full benefit of location. We are taking money out of our pockets to pay for better improvements. The money goes into the pockets of the owners of vast, idle land.

"There is nothing which will help put the single tax into operation as the recently inaugurated Federal income tax. It is here to stay. It is one of the most interesting, exercise provisions there which ever happened, and it is going to make business men think more about the subject of taxation. Stop taxing business, industry and personal property. To tax the land solely will stop wars between capital and labor."

ENCOURAGE ZIONIST MOVEMENT

Jews Hold Mass Meeting at Hub Theatre and Listen to New York Speakers

A mass meeting in the interest of the Zionist movement was held at the Hub Theatre Sunday afternoon. As many Hebrews as could crowd into the playhouse listened to their own leaders speak. These were Joseph Barondess, Louis Goldrick and A. Schneyeron. The meeting was opened by Dr. Trenholm, who introduced Jacob de Haas as the presiding officer.

Mr. de Haas, who was the first man elected with Theodor Herzl, leader and organizer of the world's Zionist movement, spoke of the situation in this country and the War Office. Music was furnished by the Boston Young Men's Hebrew Association Orchestra.

The meeting was followed by another in the Hotel Avon at Dudley and Shawmut streets at the close a banquet was served at the Jewish People's Institute, Chambers street.

Note *1511. Fuller. So far as I am able to learn the wife of Matthew Fuller has been treated as unknown. I wish to suggest that she was Frances Fuller, daughter of Edward Fuller of the Mayflower. In the often quoted deed of Samuel Fuller to Steven Skiff, June 30, 1680, John Fuller, son of Matthew, "for a valuable consideration" doth "acquiesce" in this agreement of his "unkell" Samuel Fuller. On the strength of this deed, it was long supposed that Matthew Fuller was brother of Samuel, hence son of Edward Fuller.

Now it seems to be well settled that Matthew was not a brother, but cousin, of this Samuel Fuller. It still remains that Samuel Fuller was uncle to John (2) Fuller of Dr. Matthew Fuller. Now "uncle" could result from four combinations: First, brother of Matthew, which has been disproved; second, Samuel may have married a sister of Matthew; third, Samuel's wife might have been sister of Matthew's wife. But Samuel's wife was Jane Lothrop, a daughter of Rev. John Lothrop, which seems to dispose of both of these possibilities. There remains only the fourth possibility, viz.: that Samuel Fuller was brother of John Fuller's mother, i. e., a daughter of Edward Fuller. This agrees well with the few facts known. Matthew Fuller, born in 1603, might be expected to marry a woman somewhat younger than he, born 1605-1610. Edward Fuller was of marriageable age in 1600, and was certainly married before 1612, for that is given as birth year for Samuel. Matthew's wife was "Frances," the wife of Robert Fuller, and mother of Edward Fuller was "Frances," what more natural than that Edward should name an early child for his own mother "Frances?" Such a child born before Samuel or even somewhat later, would be of suitable age to become wife of her cousin Matthew, and mother of his children, born after 1630 and before 1640.

GOOD TEETH SAVE MONEY

Harvard Medical School Lecturer Says That Defects in Schoolchildren Come Largely from Diseased Mouths—Scores "Candy Habit"

That much of the $25,000,000 spent by the city of Boston each year to take care of children who do not gain promotion could be saved, if only tooth worm in healthy condition, was asserted by Dr. William T. Cooke, in an address Sunday at the Harvard Medical School.

"Children are not promoted," said the lecturer, "because they are physically defective and much of the defect is the result of poor teeth. Aside from a direct saving of money, there are the children to be considered and every child should have the opportunity to begin life's battle with a sound body. The $22,500 dollars recently voted in school children, 30,000 came directly or indirectly from diseased teeth."

As evidence of the relation of good teeth to mental efficiency, the lecturer quoted from a report on an experimental class of children in a Cleveland school, where forty children selected as having the worst mouths showed an increased working efficiency of ninety-eight per cent. after their mouths had been put in proper condition.

Dr. Cooke recommended that the examination of the teeth of schoolchildren be done by dentists and not by physicians. "When the physician discovers that the child needs dental treatment usually a dental calamity has occurred."

The so-called candy habit" was said by the lecturer to cause much of the decay in teeth. He quoted the late Dr. Charles Eliot's report as pointing to a candy store and saying: "There is an institution that is doing infinitely more harm than the saloon to the present generation."

Dr. Cooke declared that savages have little trouble with their teeth because their food is hard. Among civilized peoples, however, sheet-metal cans have denied forth. Because the food of civilization is soft and does not afford enough exercise for the teeth.

The speaker urged mothers to look after the "first" teeth of their children, and to see that they go to a dentist at least twice a year when their "second" teeth come. He said that the teeth should be brushed before breakfast and after each meal, and so recommended that a time walk be used after brushing.

CATHOLICISM THE ONLY SOLUTION

Mgr. F. J. Supple Declares That the Church Alone Can Benefit Society

Mgr. F. J. Supple and Mrs. Martha Moore Avery were the principal speakers at a banquet of the Federated Catholic Societies in Verdi Hall, Brighton, last evening. Rev. Joseph V. Tracy, D. D., of Brighton, presided, and representatives of numerous Roman Catholic organizations were in the audience.

Mgr. Supple's topic was "The Aim and Purposes of Socialism," and he said the only the Catholic Church was the one organization which is able to cause a genuine betterment of social conditions.

Mrs. Avery said that Socialism has no capacity for creation or organization, and that its leaders are often at variance as to theories and plans.

NEW PLACE SEEN FOR COLE

Fire Commissioner May Head Metropolitan Fire Hazard Commission — Would He Receive Support of O'Meara?

If Fire Commissioner Cole becomes chairman of the proposed Metropolitan Fire Hazard Commission, Chief Assistant will be have from Building Commissioner Patrick O'Meara. This is the question that comes to the surface in view of different opinions that the two men hold respecting fire hazard conditions, and particularly with regard to Patrick O'Meara's opposition to the creation of a Metropolitan commission on fire protection. It would be "an expensive and unnecessary institution," Mr. O'Meara was a member of the commission appointed by Governor Foss to study local conditions, and report to the Legislature specific recommendations. He was the only member to file a dissenting report.

Fire Commissioner Cole takes a position with the leading opinion in the fire service that shall embrace the entire district of Greater Boston. He was a member of the governor's commission and has been enthusiastic in advocacy of the recommendations which Mr. O'Meara opposed. He has contended that the fire departments of Greater Boston embracing forty cities and towns should be practically united and that the first step in that direction should be the establishment of a metropolitan commission, to which should be transferred all existing powers vested in city and town officials for the safe-guarding of life and property. As Mr. O'Meara opposed this recommendation and has taken the office of building commissioner, what cooperation the proposed fire hazard commission would receive from that quarter is an interesting speculation.

Remodelled Building and Industrial Department Will Be Open All the Week

Dedicatory exercises, which will be continued throughout the week, were held in the new Morgan Memorial Sunday. President Lemuel H. Murlin of Boston University presided and the sermon was delivered by Bishop John W. Hamilton, who spoke on "The Universal Standard of Righteousness." Hymns, written for the occasion, were included in the musical programme.

A gift of $15,000 has been promised for a Temperance tower." Various speeches from the days when Rev. Reuen Thomas preached in the highways and byways to the unchurched in the present day were referred to in this paper. Mr. Morgan's will, which left the property in trust for Unitarian management with the expressed wish that there should be only Methodist preaching, the friendship of James Freeman Clarke, the twenty years of harmonious work by means two denominations, the withdrawal of the Benevolent Fraternity and the appointment of an interdenominational board, where all of the sisters, Rev. J. C. ENO, ONCE DEFAULTER, DEAD

He Appropriated $4,000,000 from Second National Bank in New York in 1883—Packet Navigation Co. in Canada for Nine Years—Indictment Quashed

New York, March 2—John Chester Eno, formerly president of the Second National Bank and active owner of the Mutual Life, was known as "the merchant prince," died after a short illness at his home yesterday morning. In the sixty-seventh year of his age. Mr. Eno retired from business many years ago and spent much time travelling abroad. He had lived with his daughter, Miss Mary Pinchot Eno, since the death of his wife in Paris in October, 1912.

John G. Eno gained notoriety in 1883 when it was discovered that he had appropriated to his own uses nearly $4,000,000 of the funds of the Second National Bank. A few years previously his father, who was said to have been worth $20,000,000, made this statement: "All of the work though he was then in his early thirties, the speculations of the younger John have suffered heavy losses in the stock market and used the bank's money to cover them." In the panic of 1884 the bank's credit came out in fact to Canada and successfully fought extradition there.

United States Senator Elihu Root was the first Federal District Attorney at the time. Thomas Emmet Kelly, the Roman Catholic Church went with Eno to Canada. It was Mr. Eno saved the Second National Bank by depositing in it $3,500,000 in securities and $1,000,000 in cash. It suffered a run for three days and a total loss by defalcation, coming as it did on the heels of the failure of Grant & Ward and the Marine Bank, helped to create a panic in Wall Street.

John G. Eno lived in Canada for nine years and was successful in business. He returned to New York in 1895, surrendered to the Federal authorities and was admitted to a $50,000 bail upon which he remained at liberty until the indictment against him was quashed. Nothing resulted from the several other proceedings instituted in the State courts.

Amos R. Eno died in 1898, and his will contained a clause that set at his fortune. John G. Eno had not been active in business, however, since his return to America from Canada. His only appearances in the press recently was in 1909, when he sued to recover from his lawyer, Jerome, an accounting of $500,000 of his father's estate.

Mr. Eno was graduated from Yale in 1870. He is survived by two daughters, Miss Mary Pinchot Eno and Mrs. William Leon Orme, who lives in Paris.

Newton Clergyman Hurt by Auto

An bereavement was noted at the Newton Theological Institution this morning in connection of Rev. James W. Campbell, D.D., pastor of the Newtonville Methodist Episcopal Church, who was injured in an automobile Saturday night while walking on Washington street, Newtonville. The clergyman suffered a broken right leg, a fractured rib, many cuts about the head and possible internal injuries. He was reported supposed while he was walking in the car tracks because of the condition of the sidewalks. The automobile came from behind and as it passed him skidded so that its struck him.

Broken Wire Blocks Up Tunnel

A broken trolley wire tied up traffic in the East Boston tunnel between ten and eleven o'clock last night. The accident became the most convenient method of getting across the harbor and the single boat in service was overtaxed while the tunnel was out of commission. The Chelsea, Orient Heights and Lexington street cars were switched by a shuttle like at Maverick square and made the trips to the ferry station the Summer street. Bridge Point cars were shifted to a shed track at Maverick square and started their return trips from that point.

(2807.) 1. Webb, R. H. N. Aug. 18, 1818; Feb. 18, 1854; Philip Welch married. Feb. 20, 1862, at Ipswich, Hannah Haggett, daughter of Henry Haggett of Salem and Hannah. Her sister, Lavinia, married Alexander Thompson, and another sister, Mary, married John Hunt, both Ipswich gentlemen, whose names appear on the passenger list of the John and Sarah, which effected over nearly three hundred during privateer after the battle of Worcester (Sept. 3, 1651).

I do not know the date when Philip died. He was in Topsfield 1670-1674, and of Lynn in 1675, when he enlisted in Capt. John Gardner's company for King Philip's War. An account of his family appears in the New England Genealogical Register, Vol. xxxvii, p. 57. Philip Haggett's will, dated Feb. 12, 1676-77, when he was "very sicke at present," names sons Henry and Moses, daughters Mary, Deliverence and Hannah. He died at Wenham, Jan. 24-1677-78. Some of his descendants settled in Norwich, Conn.

He received a grant from the public lands of the town in 1696, 1714. Stimpson, Wyllys, Hartford, there in 1714. From the probate records in Hartford, Conn., the date of the appraisal inventory of the estate of Arthur Smith, late of Glastenbury, Conn. deceased was exhibited Feb. 14, 1727-8; and they were married by Rev. John Greenwood the following March 27. The marriage is recorded in the Second Congregational Church record at Pohobeth, and the name of the bride is not there contained given as Deborah Arnold gives the births of nine children to Stephen and Deborah Arnold between 1724 and 1749, but does not include Lydia, which may be a mistake on his part in copying the record. Deborah Sweetland was born in Attleboro April 3, 1703, daughter of John and Rebecca (Carr) Sweetland, who came from Marblehead before 1788. John and Rebecca were married Aug. 4, 1686, at Marblehead, and had: William, 1687; John, 1689; Samuel, 1691; Sarah, 1693; Job, 1695; Benjamin, 1697; Jabez, 1699; Nehemiah, 1701. (2809.) 1. Read, Rounds. G. S. S., Feb. 11, 1914.

I am glad the Rounds or Rounds family are being unsatisfied as I have tried for years to get what has been published on the genealogy of, with taken from Taunton Probate Court Records, which may throw some light on the Read problem. Will of John Rounde, Oct. 16, 1710; proven Nov. 3, 1715, mentions wife Elizabeth, son John, Richard, and George; daughters Elizabeth Bowen, wife of Joseph; Ruth, wife of Benjamin Mason; Sarah, wife of Jonathan Dorsworth; Susanna, wife of John Read; Judith Rounde. Son John appointed executor. Copy of will in Families, Records Robotoh takes from Probate Records, Taunton. John Rounde died between 29 Sept. and Sept. 3, 1709, wife Hannah (evidently her second husband), mentions wife's daughter Sarah Bowen, wife of Joseph Chase. Heirs of son John deceased:

Son David Rounde.
Son Daniel Rounde.
Son Samuel Rounde, who died 1709.
Daughter Judith Rounde.
Daughter Elizabeth Read.

In the census of 1774, Tiverton, R. I., John Rounde—one male over 16; one under; one female over; two under; five in all. David Rounde—one male over; one under; one female over, one under; David Rounde, Jr.—one male over. Three under; one female over, four under.

Can anyone tell me if the David Rounde who was made the Indian Captain, was son of both or Rebekah; to Rev. David Turner, April 15, 1742, and whose children were Jerusha, born Dec. 4, 1743; David, born Feb. 1, 1744-5 (Rebekah says born Feb. 16, 1744); Lucretia, born Feb. 16, 1746-7; Hannah, born Feb. 11, 1748-9; Anne, born Feb. 27, 1744; Ruth, born Feb. 27, 1751; Rebecca, born 1753; was a son of Richard and Ann Martin Rounde, or was he the son mentioned in Judge Rounde's will as "my grandson"?

The children of David and Hannah Carpenter reported to be living in Tiverton, R. I., in 1774, according to the census, David Rounde, Jr., (son of David), Hannah Carpenter), married Hannah King, Sarah, born of Benjamin and Mary King, by Rev. David Rounde, April 17, 1765. He lived in Tiverton, R. I. Their children were: Martin, born March 4, 1781, died young; Hart; Joshua, born March 7, 1783, married Susanna Wilbur, daughter of Reuben (3) Wilbur and Sarah Fones. Gotham was a drummer boy in the Revolutionary War, and after his marriage moved to Albany County, N. Y., thence to Green County, N. Y., where he died. Sarah, born Alfred, born Jan. 20, 1787, married Rachel Dorr, or Derell; Ruth, born Dec. 4, 1792; Mary, born Feb. 23, 1772; David, born April 24, 1774, and died Sept. 26, 1796; Joseph, born Jan. 24, 1776; Daniel, born April 2, 1779; Elizabeth, born March 12, 1782; Nancy, born March 19, 1785; Johnathan Rounde (son of David and Hannah King), born March 2, 1768, and wife Susannah Wilbur (Reuben and Sarah) born April 27, 1795, died Sept. 27, 1796; Mary, born March 23, 1797; married Lyman (2810.) 1. Williams. G. A. M. J. C., Feb. 13, 1914. I thank you for the identity of the James Williams who, I thought to be the brother of Roger. I know very little about the "scholastic" but considered him a brother of William Williams of Taunton, 1637, who came from Gloucestershire, Eng., in the Winthrop expedition. John Winthrop, Jr., had sought to settle them in Long Island, but the trouble with the Dutch delayed the matter for about ten years. They were in Connecticut C. L. in 1637, and Robert was living at Oyster Bay in 1653. (See "Early Settlers of Connecticut," Refugees of 1776.") One Williams genealogy says, "Robert Williams had a son Richard," and Cecil says, "The parentage of Richard is unknown." Your statement that Richard was of Taunton, Mass., may lead one astray in suggesting that this Richard may have been son of William Williams of Taunton. One point more: I have recently noted the "tradition" in the Lovell family that their ancestor, William Carpenter, came with Roger Williams and Mary, wife of Ezra Auxbury, in Wilts, their native place. He travelled with them to Bristol, where he died and died in Providence. What year Wood said died in Providence. What was the name of the ancestor of Mrs. Williams's maiden name Carpenter? I find that Peter Williams (Daniel 2, Roger 1) married Elizabeth Carpenter, daughter of Timothy and Hannah Carpenter, Nov. 19, 1761. Was she of the same James except in four instances, and Allen is no instance in either of the families mentioned.

MURRAY OBJECTS TO RECALL IDEA

Municipal Court Judge Says That It Involves Wrong Principle

No quarter was given to the recall of judges by Judge M. J. Murray of the Municipal Court, who addressed several hundred members of the Common Cause Society at Franklin Union on Monday evening. The people already have ample legal rights and prescribed methods for proceeding against judges, he said, "but, after all, with justice should not be dependent upon the will of the majority of the electorate. The people cannot truly know what injustice is unless they are versed in legal procedure; the recall, the judge has to keep his ear to the ground for public sentiment and opinion. They will soon be lost sight of in the maze and misconstrue of justice, because, under these circumstances, the judge seems to be a free agent, and will be compelled, in forming his decisions, to consult the public sentiment, which would be unjust. This swaying his decision from strictly legal grounds."

GREEK SOLDIERS DECORATED

New England Men Who Fought in Turkish or Bulgarian War Receive Medals

Sixty-six Greeks of New England who served in the recent war between Turkey and Bulgaria, or it both, were decorated Sunday at the Greek Church in Winchester street by the consul general, Theodore Timayenis of New York. The veterans were awarded bronze medals, in memory of the occasion, and each received an autographed photocopy of the King of Greece.

Rev. Theodore Prinitsios, pastor of the church, said that the fatherland was grateful to these men for what their forms have and work and had gone to risk all in battle. Consul Timayenis added a few words to make the award, and Alexander Camoulias, a sergeant of infantry, responded for the veterans.

Rockland, Me., Oct. 19—The battleship New York arrived yesterday for standardization trials, which will be held off this coast. The battleship New York is a sister ship of the Texas, and in the test of both she will be required to develop greater speed than that vessel. She received twenty knots an hour on her run from New York.

Genealogical

PUBLISHED EVERY MONDAY AND WEDNESDAY

TWO CONTRIBUTORS: Matter for the Genealogical department has accumulated to such an extent that it is impossible to insert queries as soon as they are received. In sending matter to this department the following rules must be absolutely observed:

1. Names and dates must be clearly written. 2. The full name and address of the writer must be given. 3. Make all queries brief and clear. 4. Write on one side of the paper only. Do not use postal cards. 5. In answering queries, the date of the paper, the number of the query and signature must be given. Answers will be published soon after receipt. 6. All letters received are presumably for publication, but if they are to be forwarded to contributors they must be sent in blank, stamped envelopes, accompanied by the number of the query and its signature.

As most of our correspondents do not care to reply to letters excepting through the Transcript, it is unnecessary to ask the editor if he has forwarded mail as requested. Do not send letters to be forwarded excepting in accordance with Rule 6. Remember that a blank, stamped envelope must be used.

Each separate query must be accompanied by a Two-Cent Stamp.

GENEALOGICAL DEPARTMENT, BOSTON TRANSCRIPT

We have received several letters of late in regard to the extensive work of many professional genealogists. One correspondent has been working on her own family tree for more than twenty years and feels that professional genealogists are a big risk because of those few unscrupulous. Another correspondent writes that she has employed a professional, of certain fame, probate and vital records, and the number of errors that have been found in family genealogies, to verify historical and in many of the publications relating to New England are appalling. Many of these books are almost unbelievable. The professional genealogist has given benefits to this department are many and varied, both in the matter of information they furnish as well as the co-operation they extend, but if the average amateur genealogist is careless and inaccurate, what is to be done? Many of those people who, without any training, no previous knowledge, rush into the "business" Many of these accept the work in pursuit of the family tree, and the result is a mass of inaccuracies, misleading, and we call attention to the mailing list, that all of our correspondents will be more careful in their methods of work and unbiased. The plenty of paper, pencil and postage, if genealogical relationship cannot be established, let someone prove your family history as well as you do yourself.

Ebenezer (3) married Abigail, daughter of Ebenezer (2). One was John Williams of Roxbury, and was by one of the Roads Association, while another expert says Abigail descended from Deacon of Roxbury and called for a nephew, Ephraim Rice, who married both gentlemen Williams of the family can verify this. (*4353.) Perry, Carver, Barstow.—Several years ago it was stated that the daughters of Richard and Susan (Carver) Marshall, Elizabeth, William Randall and susanna, married Perry, Carver and Barstow. Have I misread, or is someone send in a copy of that part or the will of Michael Metcalf, Jr. (Charlestown), which, refers to their people. Very much obliged. Grace Atherton Hudson.

(*4354.) I. Butler. The family tradition is that the Butler family came to this country about 1700, with three brothers. I will give the names of the family as far back as is known. Nathaniel married Jerusha Bowen, and had seven children, Nathaniel, Benjamin and James; sons of Nathaniel were, Osmond and Ira. Osmond Butler, a native of Rhode Island, when fifteen years old went to Vermont and became prominent in public affairs. Daughter of Ebenezer Rood. Abigail Rood is supposed to have been a descendant of Thomas Rood, of Watertown, Mass., 1634. She died in Troy, Oak-land County, Mich., and was buried there. She was born in 1788, and was therefore eighty-six years old. Thirty first child. Alva, was born 1788. I want dates of when and where Osmond and Abigail were married, and where and when both also dates of birth and marriage of their children. I have written 1848 from Mrs. Olive (Butler) Brown to Mrs. Abigail (Rood) Butler, addressing her as sister, which she was 72 and 76 years old, and says she visited in Vermont and was brother's namesake, Nathaniel Bostwick, who was eighty years old, and Sister Harriet, Jonathan D. Butler, son, Osmond Butler was born in Middletown, Vt., Jan. 3, 1803. I think the rest of the children were born in New York. I have found a date of marriage of Hannah Rood, to Daniel Bostwick, April 21, 1796. Hannah Bostwick, daughter of Nathaniel Bostwick and Hannah (Rood) Bostwick, was born in Litchfield, Conn., 1762; of Nathaniel Bostwick, son of Nathaniel and Lucy, born Stratford, Conn., 1732; of Nathaniel Bostwick, son of Nathaniel and Hannah (Wakeman) Bostwick, born Stratford, Dec. 31, 1700. Nathaniel Bostwick, son of Samuel. Records Church of Christ, Norfolk, Conn. Nathaniel Foster died April 2, 1758.

I. Butler. Who were the parents of Daniel and Elizabeth Butler? Daniel Butler, born 1776, married Elizabeth Bostwick, Dec. 26, 1777, she was born February, 1761. Their children were: Daniel, Elizabeth, born Feb. 16, 1780; John, born Feb. 9, 1783, married, 1806, Phebe Ward, born Feb. 14, 1787. Settlement of Ward.

E. Clarke Butler. Who were the parents of Cynthia Clarke, who married John Butler, 1808, Granville, Mass.? Was she the widow Bissell, mentioned in Vol. 2, p. 1? L. M. B. F.

(*4355.) Fish. I would like to learn the percentage of Preserved Fish of the town of Beekman, Dutchess County, N. Y., who were Tories in the Revolution. Also the names of Thomas Fish, grandson of Nathaniel Fish, and daughters Mary, Audra and Amelia, and grandson Nathaniel Fish, son of the daughter Marcia. He was evidently a member of the Society of Friends. I have the records of the births of Nathaniel Fish, born 1770, who died at Ira, Vt., in 1846, in the early settlers of that town, together with the names and records of all his children. The name Preserved is peculiar and very interesting. I would like to use it in four generations of the Fish family. Preserved Fish, the first, who was the eight Preserved Fishes, descendants of Thomas of Portsmouth, R. I., in the 17th century. I do not think the name has been used in any other branch of the family. The preservation of this last bit of the (*4356.) 1. Chilson, Willis.—William Calhoun, who emigrated to Boston May, 1671, in the ship Arabella, had seven children, born in England. He became the first pastor of the Scotch Street Church. A family paper says that Samuel Gold married Deborah Howard 1mo July 5, 1714. Her name was Hannah Ellis. Can anyone tell me if the Ellis name is known, whether her mother was Mary or Sarah Cobham? Was she her father's first wife?

2. Mary Thomas Mary came to Boston, bringing the first settlers and married Susanna Sewall March 6, 1678. Tradition says he came from Middleton. Is this true? If so, were his parents and what is his birth date?

3. Mary, John Mary, born July 13, 1667, in Roxbury, married Sarah (Lee) Williams, was her maiden name and where did she live?

4. Edward Prentice married Catharine Pierce June 27, 1718, Newbury. Where did he hail from and who were his parents?

5. Smith, Tryphe, Rachel Smith was born March 15, 1751, and married Thomas Teppan of Newburyport Feb 2, 1785, by official record. Her maiden name was Rachel and her father's name probably Preston. Where was she born? Was she a daughter of Peleiah, who bore her grandparents' names?

6. Cohen, Theodore Cohen, Harvard, 1796, came from Charleston, S. C., and later settled in Dorchester, but I can find no record of him there. Any information about him will be acceptable.

7. Fisk, Information desired concerning the following: Robert Fisk, Hart Fisk, Sarah, 1843; William Fisk, Harvard, 1737; Elizabeth Fisk, Rhoda Fisk, Mehitable Fisk, Susanna Fisk, Daniel Fisk, Samuel Fisk, Robert Roberts, 1771; Obadiah Parsons, 1788. F. J. L.

(*4357.) 1. Carr. Captain Robert Carr of Newport, R. I., died Nov. 7, 1760; married Mary Wood. Can anyone give information regarding him and his family, the Carrs? The sons Robert Carr and Mary Wood had were born 1741 to 1747. Their daughter, born 1738, Abigail; born 1756; Joseph, born 1758; and Job, born 1760. Wanted, dates of deaths and marriages.

2. Cheek. Silas Cheek, married "late of Newport," died March 27, 1771, and his wife Mary died June 1, 1771 ("Newport," died March 27, 1771). Did Silas Cheek marry Mary Bond, of Newport, Mass., and who were their children?

John Peabody of Newport, R. I., merchant, died 1726 or 1730, leaving sons, John, Francis and Samuel. Would like full list of his children and marriages. TRASK (*3037.) 1. Adams, Webb. A. R. H., April 1914 Minutes says: I gave you the mother of Elizabeth (or Adams) Shurtleff as was Mehitable (Harvey) Adams. He married Deborah Tracy of Preston, Conn., and some time ago I found on Tracy genealogy, I think in the Plymouth Church Records, born 1697, married, 1730, Elizabeth Adams, born —, died 1781. Her twin sister married, 1716, Thomas Rix. Deborah was daughter of Thomas (6 Tracy, son Lieutenant Jonathan and Mary (Griswold) Tracy, son John and Mary (Winslow) Tracy, she daughter Stephen and Margaret (Reed) Winslow, son of Lieutenant Thomas Tracy." It may have been in Webster and Norwich, but the page was not left. I cannot say this finishing the Tracy material is not authentic.

ANSWERS

Winsor's history says Stephen Tracy came in the Fortune, married, in Holland, Lydia Conant, Plymouth record; and had: Mercy, John Tracy, who married Mary Prence, daughter of Governor Prence and his second wife, Mary Collier. She died, and Lieutenant John Tracy married second, Mary Winslow, daughter Governor Josiah. Thomas Tracy of Marshfield removed to Norwich, Conn., about 1690; Rebecca, married William Mercick; Ruth and Mary.

Mary, born 1690, N. S., died in Mid. and Express, says: John, son of Lieutenant John Tracy, married about 1690, Deborah ——, and had: Deborah, Mary, Tracy had parents of rest Deborah Tracy, M. S. W. 1908, answer Will, claims that Thomas Tracy went to Salem and then to Norwich. I cannot see the Tracy genealogy, but it seems a reasonable that Jonathan is the father of those given above, and, if Richard and the two Stephens were Roslyn John, Lieutenant Thomas and Rebecca (Tracy) Merrick, I should be very glad to know it. I have the will of Thomas Tracy, proved. The marriage of John Tracy with Mary Winslow, if true was upon the death of Joseph Tracy, their son, was born Aug. 10, 1671, and died Jan. 27, its name was: John Tracy, their son, Jan. 15, 1677; Elizabeth Tracy, daughter, July 7, 1680; Joseph, born April 20, 1683; Nathaniel, born ——; had: Josiah Sackett, 1720, married Love Winslow; and Rachel Dalton, born 1727, married James (4) Ford, 1750. (James 3 Ford, Nathaniel 2, William 1). Nathaniel Sackett was son of Nathaniel Sackett and Lydia (Sprague) Sackett. I would like the Sackett line back to first ancestor.

(*3784.) Dingley. M. A. H. T., Oct. 12, 1914. I am not familiar with the English line of the Pilgrim Dingleys, so can only refer if the family came from the Neville. There was Brent Dingley and he spelling family pages in the earlier generations. The Phelps family of America had the same origin as the royal family of England named Guelph. Both names are recorded Gelasius in England. The Wells family came from Robert De Vallance, in England, born 1155. The Vaux family has the same origin.

The Howard lists gives fifty-two ways of spelling the name. Howard, Howe, Howell, Dunbert, Hugh, Hart, are specimens. Daniel Howard of Pittsfield, Mass., moved to Ohio, changed the spelling of the name to Hubbard in 1795, and the descendants of his fifteen children all have used the latter method since then. In the Bristol records there is a name spelling Hubbard. The emigrant, Peter Hubbar of Hingham, his descendants who kept the name Hubbard. Oliver Balden, born 1770, had a son Oliver Andrew, born Aug. 11, 1791; Sarah, born June 11, 1797, married Timothy Chapman; John Fuller, father of Alonzo, was born in Barnstable between 1650 and 1695. He made his will Feb. 20, 1728-9, and it was proven in court, May 2, 1736. He married, about 1670, Mehitabel, daughter of Hezekiah Bowker, who survived her husband, but the date of her death is unknown.

Samuel Fuller, father of Alonzo Fuller, was born about 1672 in England and died Oct. 1, 1744, at Barnstable. He married, April 6, 1693, at Mr. Cudworth's house in Scituate ceremony performed by Captain Miles Standish. Jane Lathrop, daughter of Rev. John Lathrop of Scituate and Barnstable, baptized Sept. 26, 1652, at Edgerton, Kent, died at date unknown, but before her husband.

Samuel Fuller grew up under the care of his uncle, Dr. Samuel Fuller, at Plymouth. From there he went to Barnstable, where he married, and about 1641 conveyed to Mathew Marsh, also of Scituate, 200 acres, a remote spot, commanding a splendid view of the bay as far as Provincetown. He was a cousin of Dr. Samuel of the same place. Came in the Mayflower with his parents in 1620.

Edward Fuller, father of Samuel, baptized at Redenhall, County Norfolk, England, Sept. 7, 1580, married Edward Fuller's son Samuel, and Ann Leonard, born 1585, died March 14, 1683, "soon after they came to Plymouth." Their daughter, Mary, born 1608; Anne, whose family name is unknown, died young, same time. They came in the Mayflower in 1620. There is no trace of them at Leyden, and they were never members of the church at Scrooby. Edward Fuller, was prominent in the affairs of the Pilgrim commonwealth at Plymouth, and died there. Edward Fuller to sail in the Mayflower with him and the other Pilgrims.

Edward Fuller was son of Robert Fuller of Redenhall, Suffolk, England, who died in the early spring of 1621, "soon after they came to Plymouth." Daughter Margaret, wife Anne, whose family name is unknown, died young, same time. They came in the Mayflower in 1620. There is no trace of them at Leyden, and they were never members of the church at Scrooby.

*4282. 1. Fuller. M. M. B. A., Sept. 30, 1914. John Fuller, born Nov. 10, 1697, in East Haddam, Conn., died there in 1758 (will probated March 6, 1758); was son of John Fuller and Mehitabel Rowley of Barnstable, Mass, and East Haddam. He married, May 10, 1721, Mrs. Mary Rowley, widow of Thomas Rowley of East Haddam and daughter of William and Esther (Ward) Cornwall of Middletown, Conn. Children: Mary, born Feb. 19, 1721-2, married, Nov. 1, 1750, Joseph Smith; Esther, born July 6, 1724, married Stephen Gates; John, born Jan. 29, 1727, married Susannah ——; William, born June 16, 1729, married Rebecca Spencer; Mehitabel, born Jan. 3, 1731-2, married Israel Champion;

John Fuller, father of above, was born in Barnstable between 1650 and 1656. He made his will Feb. 28, 1725-6, and it was shown in court, May 2, 1726. He married, about 1678, Mehitabel, daughter of Moses Rowley, Sr. She survived her husband, but the date of her death is unknown.

Samuel Fuller, father of John Fuller, was born about 1612 in England, and died Oct. 31, 1683, at Barnstable. He married, April 8, 1635, at Mr. Cudworth's house in Scituate (ceremony performed by Captain Miles Standish) Jane Lathrop, daughter of Rev. John Lathrop of Scituate and Barnstable, baptized Sept. 29, 1614, at Edgerley, Kent, died at date unknown, but before her husband.

Samuel Fuller grew up under the care of his uncle, Dr. Samuel Fuller, at Plymouth. From there he went to Scituate, where he married, and about 1644 removed to Barnstable and settled at Scorton Hill, a remote spot, commanding a splendid view of the bay as far as Provincetown. He was a church member in all three places. Came in the Mayflower with his parents in 1620.

Edward Fuller, father of Samuel, baptized at Redenhall, County Norfolk, England, Sept. 4, 1575, died in the early spring of 1621, "soon after they came on shore," Governor Bradford says. Wife Anne, whose family name is unknown, died about same time. They came in the Mayflower, 1620. There is no trace of them at Leyden, and they were never there, but Edward's brother, Dr. Samuel Fuller, was prominent in the affairs of the Pilgrim congregation at Leyden, and probably induced Edward Fuller to sail in the Mayflower with him and the other Pilgrims.

Edward Fuller was son of Robert Fuller of Redenhall, butcher, whose will was probated on May 30, 1614. His widow, Frances, was buried at Redenhall, March 28, 1632. Robert Fuller is thought to have been son of John Fuller of Redenhall, who died in 1558-9. The Fullers were numerous in this parish for over two centuries.

Sergeant William Cornwall was at Roxbury, Mass., in 1634. In Hartford, Conn., in 1639; thence removed to Middletown, Conn., where his lands were recorded Jan. 30, 1657. He died at Middletown, Feb. 22, 1677-8. Representative, 1654, 1664 and 1665. First wife Joan ——; second, Mary ——.

Son, William, born June 24, 1641, probably in Hartford, Conn.; died September or October, 1691, in Middletown; married, Nov. 30, 1670, Mary ——. The record at Middletown has been read "Mary Bull," but it probably should be read "Mary Bale," that is, Bailey. No appropriate "Mary Bull" is known.

William (3) Cornwall, son of above William, was born at Middletown, Conn., Sept. 13, 1671, and died there July 16, 1747. He married, Jan. 22, 1691-2, Esther Ward of Middletown. Their daughter, Mary, born Nov. 21, 1694, married, first, Thomas Rowley of East Haddam, and, second, John Fuller, Jr., of the same town. There is a Cornwall Genealogy, published some years ago, from which more information concerning the Cornwalls can probably be obtained.

(*2736.) Query: In reference of L. B. F. to the Russia oil purchase and properties of New York State has argued, the box that has been in some days that will help me. I am trying to learn something about William Gould, Sr., who lived at one time in Dutchess County. I know nothing about him except that he had sons William, Jr., Adam, Joel, John and Wilbur. William, Jr., married Hannah Kelsbacher about 1790 or 1791. They were both born in Dutchess County, William on July 17, 1769, and his wife on May 3, 1771. Adam was born Aug. 8, 1793, and on Sept. 6, 1796, married Judith Coffin of Nantucket, the date of her birth being June 7, 1772.

The children of William, Jr., moved from Dutchess to Saratoga County, New York. The children of William, Jr., were born at Half Moon, and those of Adam at Malta, both in the latter county.

These families afterwards moved to Tioga County, N. Y., and Bradford County, Pa., in 1835. Many of their descendants still live there. One of these is Lois Gould, who married Samuel D. Russel. She is a daughter of Daniel Gould and Mary Anne Wright, and Daniel was a son of the William, Jr., above referred to.

Is there anything in the above else that relates to the ancestry of these families? It is supposed that William, Sr., came from Rhode Island. It may be that of one that he lived in Wyndham County, Conn. Judging from the fact that the name Windham was given to the township of Bradford County, Pa., there were a few Connecticuters settled there.

I shall be even more pleased if given the parentage and lineage of Phebe Sherwood, wife of Rear-Adm. The pair had nine children: Cornelius, William, Joseph, Rachel, Jerusha, Jedediah Mosses, John B. and Charity, who married Andrew Garrison. As somewhat pertinent to notes of F. A. W. and J. H. (*2838.) Porter, Haywood. V. A. S. W., Nov. 24, 1914: Adam Mallowag was probably a grandson of William Hooper of Boston. In 1693 he was exempt from taxes and was living with his second wife, Elizabeth. Adam was probably dead before he his estate in 1696, consequently at least sixteen years old, as Bridget (b. 1682), whom Elizabeth declared to be "our children." Therefore he could not have been born later than 1680. Adam must have married before 1682, as Bridget was born in that year. William's second marriage, which must be certified, was to Elizabeth Hall, daughter of Benjamin Hall, of Boston, married, in 1693, Jane Brannan and had five children. As he was sent to Timothy to age the chances are that little was left to the estate, and Adam may have been a son of his by a former wife. I think this quite likely possibly was a second venture, because there were married in 1645, he would have been thirty-seven at least at the time of his death, and Elizabeth declared to her "son-in-law." Therefore I have never found the record of his marriage to Elizabeth Hall, but the dates given above would make that date have been six and William's second child, Benjamin, married, in 1693, Jane Brannan and had five children, so he was sent to Timothy to age the chances are that little was left to the estate, and Adam may have been a son of his by a former wife. (*4241.) 1. Cutler. I am desirous of verifying a genealogical chart made out by my great-grandfather. So far as I have been able to verify it, I find it proves to be remarkably accurate and has cleared up some very troublesome problems. The first name on it is Peter (1) Cutler "of Massachusetts Bay." His wife's name is not given, nor dates, but probably it appears later. It seems likely that he was the pioneer Cutler of his line to settle in Boston. His son was Peter (2) Cutler. His wife was Catherine ——. Any information regarding the ancestry of Isaac Cutler, their son, of Boston, dwelling or dates, and information about their wives, will be highly appreciated.

2. Cutler, Morris. Catherine (?) Cutler, daughter of Peter (2) Cutler and his wife Catherine, married James Morris. In my endeavor to confirm this statement in the old chart I found, in the Vital Records of Roxbury, Mass., Oct. 1st James Morris of Boston and Mrs. Katherine Cutter of Boston, Intention married at Newport, R. I., Aug. 6, 1733. This seems to be my Catherine Cutler. In spite of the uncertainty it is positive, but no information regarding her family is to be found in the Boston records. Any endeavor to trace James Morris, whose ancestry is not given in the old chart, is found in Boston in 1733, and that James Morris, son of Charles Morris and Esther, his wife, was born in Boston Dec. 25, 1713. Can anyone tell me whether he is the "James Morris of Boston" who married Mrs. Katherine Cutter (or Cutler) at Stoke Newington? If so, he would have been twenty at the time of his marriage. Mary Morris, daughter of James and Catherine (Cutler) Morris, comes next on my old chart. There is no record of her birth in the Stoke Newington records, but there is a statement that Mary Morris, daughter of James and Katherine Morris, was baptized March 30, 1740. This seems almost surely the Mary Morris of the old chart.

3. Morris, Cochran. Mary Morris, according to the old chart, married Captain William Cochran of Scotland. Cochran, Cochrane and other forms are always various. I can find no record of this marriage nor where it took place, but nothing definite about Captain William Cochran prior to 1772, when Bond, in his "Old Families of Watertown," says that Captain William Cochran and his wife Mary came to Watertown and purchased a house. Cochran's occupation on I have no authority, as the old chart agrees precisely with Bond. Except for the differences where the corrections of the chart and the errors of Bond are self-evident, I have received the approval of original authorities in my possession.

I am extremely anxious to straighten out the ancestry of William Cochran, and to this end will give double I know of himself and Mary Cochran as children, in the following order: William, Peter, Mary, Catherine and Catherine Morris by his Watertown, Bond mentions their births, but 1773, and Catherine, born 1775. It is evident, therefore, since they came to Watertown in 1772, that at least four children were born elsewhere, but where I have never been able to discover. My copy of a copy of Mary Cochran's will, drawn in 1805, and a newspaper clipping of the notice of the probating of it in 1806, after her death in 1829, is sufficient proof that Bond is in error in stating that Captain William Cochran died and his widow married April 14, 1783, Nathaniel Ingraham of Boston. It was her daughter Mary who married "Mr. Ingraham," as the old chart states.

The following notable concerning the children of William and Mary Cochran, taken from the old chart, may be helpful: William, married Catherine Lyon, and had four children. Mary, Catherine, married Peter Lyon, and had two children. Peter, married Penelope Mitchell and had five children. Mary, Henrietta, Susan, Benjamin P., and Catherine. Mary married a "Mr. Ingraham" (evidently Boyd's Nathaniel Ingraham of Boston) and had two children, Harry and Maria, who later married "Mr. Lechmere." There is no proof that Captain William Cochran married Sarah (8) Stearns (David 5, David 4, John 3, Samuel 2, John 1). William Cochran died at sea, according to my family records, June 4, 1778. There is in my possession a copy of his will dated April 26, 1778, at Kingstown, Jamaica. I should be grateful for any information which may help me to prove Butler, Morris or Cochran lines. I have further details regarding some of the Cochran lines not stated here, should anyone desire them.

2. Low, Mary Low was born in Ipswich, Mass., Jan. 11, 1746, the daughter of Jonathan Low and Sarah (——) Low, who had been married April 26, 1739. She married in Ipswich until 1757 at least, for one of the children was born there in April, 1757. He later removed with his family to Lunenburg, Mass., where he later married Sarah Stearns, a direct descendant of Isaac Stearns, of Lunenburg, who came from Ipswich. Mary married a "Mr. Ingraham." Any *4282. 1. Fuller, Rowley. M. M. B. A., Jan. 11, 1915. The ancestry of Matthew Fuller has been given in a late issue of the Transcript, but I cannot find it just now and will send a few words now and later from my records and Plymouth Colony Records will send more accurate data. Some years back a Fuller pedigree was published in New England Historical and Genealogical Register giving the parentage of Matthew Fuller. I was not satisfied to accept it and was sharply dealt with for doubting. But two things prevented me from accepting. One, the deed "Mack" refers to in which Uncle Fuller is spoken of, but more especially a deed in Plymouth County Records where land, etc., is granted to children of first comers. In this list was William Mullins, son of William Mullins of Mayflower. It has been proved, and notwithstanding Bradford makes no mention of his coming over. He left no descendants.

I cannot recall all the names. Will give them in a few weeks when I search my books at Little Compton, but amongst others was William Pabodie, and he claimed on the rights of his wife Elizabeth Alden, of course, daughter of John Alden. Also in the list was Matthew Fuller. Some time ago, in 1914, "Mack" had an article that Frances, wife of Matthew Fuller, was daughter of Edward Fuller of the Mayflower. This would make all clear. Matthew claiming the land for his wife, daughter of Edward of the Mayflower, and would not interfere with pedigree given and in accordance with the deed given in Barnstable. I wish "Mack" would repeat his article. My children have on their father's side eight Mayflower ancestors and do not need Edward and Ann of the Mayflower, but in addition to these facts given above was the persistent tradition that their Fuller ancestor came in the Mayflower and died in the first sickness.

(*4696.) 1. Whaler. Pollock. In the Mrs. Wheeler who died at Rehoboth, Mass., Nov. 24, 1712, Mrs. [illegible] of Philip and Mercy, 2d who is married Lois Bullock, Nov. 24, 1712. Was her daughter Mercy Philip, born May 26, 1715, is not confirmed.

Daniel (HALL?), born in Guilford, Vt., patented land at what was at one of a Philip, and I am led to believe these two Phillips are identical. A land lease was executed to them in 1794, and moved to Brattleboro, Vt., before 1804. The Guilford Philips removed further, but later returned to Brattleboro and family is western New York. Information is requested concerning the Daniel and Philip of Rehoboth, subsequent to 1715, and also of the parentage of Lois Bullock. I may remark that the Wheeler Book is in partial error concerning Mercy Daniel, wife of Captain Philip Wheeler, Daniel's father. She was Mercy Jenckes, eldest of Benjamin Francis and Sarah Ann, 26, 1715, of Rehoboth, and Mary (Sheffield) Jenckes.

*4282. 1. Fuller. M. M. B. A., Sept. 30, 1914. On the above date, I asked for the ancestry of John Fuller and his wife, Mary Rowley (alias Cornwall). On Nov.

4, 1914, H. W. B. answered very fully. Having given me the ancestry of John (John and Mehitable Rowley, Samuel and Jane Lathrop, Edward and Anne, of the Mayflower), he says that my John (4) Fuller married Mary, the widow of Thomas Rowley, and daughter of William and Esther (Ward) Cromwell. This William (3) Cromwell was the son of William (2), born June 24, 1641, probably in Hartford, Conn.; died September or October, 1691, in Middletown; married Nov. 30, 1670, Mary ——. The record at Middletown has been read "Mary Bull," but it probably should be read "Mary Bale," that is Bailey. No appropriate Mary Bull is known. My interest now is concerning this possible "Mary Bale."

In several issues of the Transcript of 1913, I find some discussion of John Bailey, Sr., his wife, Lydia, and wills in which they and their children are mentioned. On Jan. 6, 1913, I find: "John Bailey" had seven children: John, born about 1655, . . . Benjamin, Nathaniel, Lydia, Susannah, Mary, married —— Cornwell. If John was the oldest and Mary the youngest, she was, of course, too young to marry in 1670. Will B. A., and J. B. F., and "Mack" answer if these Haddam and Middletown Cornwells and Baileys had any connection.

*2341. Fuller. J. D. F., Dec. 26, 1911. Has anything come to light in the recent Fuller investigations or in the new genealogy to identify the second wife of Rev. Samuel Fuller? She was widow Elizabeth Bowen, whose husband, Thomas Bowen, died at Rehoboth, Aug. 3, 1664. In his will, recently published in the Mayflower Descendant, Thomas Bowen calls himself late of New London, but now sojourning at Rehoboth, and appoints brother Obadiah Bowen and brother-in-law Robert Fuller overseers. It appears that his sister Sarah had married a Robert Fuller. The will is dated April 11, 1663.

According to the Prentiss Genealogy, in a document of the same date, Elizabeth Bowen of Rehoboth calls John Prentis of New London "our brother-in-law," and gives him power of attorney. As none of Thomas Bowen's sisters married a Prentiss, it is probable that Elizabeth Bowen was a sister of Prentiss's wife, Hester, who died in January, 1679-80, "aged 44 or 40."

I should like to second the request of M. L. T. A. (March 31, 1915) that "Mack" would repeat his article that Frances, wife of Matthew Fuller, was daughter of Edward Fuller of the Mayflower. I missed that article, and am much interested.

Genealogical

This Department is published every Monday and Wednesday. Correspondents are requested to direct all communications to the "Genealogical Department, Boston Transcript," and to accompany each separate query with a two-cent stamp.

TO CONTRIBUTORS: Matter for the Genealogical Department has accumulated to such an extent that it is impossible to insert queries as soon as they are received. In sending matter to this Department the following rules must be absolutely observed:

1. Names and dates must be clearly written.
2. The full name and address of the writer must be given.
3. Make all queries brief and clear.
4. Write on one side of the paper only. Do not use postal cards.
5. In answering queries, the date of the paper, the number of the query and signature must be given. Answers will be published since other readers may have data on the same subject.
6. All items received are presumably for publication, but if they are to be forwarded to contributors they must be sent in blank stamped envelopes, accompanied by the number of the query and the signature.

As most of our correspondents do not care to reply to letters excepting through the Transcript, it is unnecessary to ask the editor if he has forwarded mail as requested. Do not send letters to be forwarded excepting in accordance with Rule 6. Remember that a blank stamped envelope must be used.

Boxford, Nov. 8, 1915.

(*3004.) 1. Peter, Archibald. Will some one who has access to Arnold's Vital Records of Rhode Island, volume 1, Kent County, and probably Warwick town, kindly see if the birth, parents and grandparents are therein given of Hannah Peter, who married (Scituate, R. I.) Sept. 24, 1775, Jonathan Salisbury? She married second, May 21, 1781, (Scituate, R. I.) Samuel Smith; and died in 1840, aged seventy-eight years (gravestone). She may have been the daughter of Ichabod, or Job (married Feb. 19, 1728-9), or a posthumous child of Abel, who died Jan. 16, 1728-9, these three being sons of Abel (2), (George (1), Peter) are all established through the sons of John (2), Robert (1); both George (1) and Robert (1) being of Warwick.

2. Mathewson. Who was Sarah the wife of Zechariah (2) Chase? Is she of Rhode Island Providence; married about 1700-1703?

3. Fenner. Who was Hannah the wife of William (3) Slade (George 2, George 1), of Tiverton, R. I., and what children did they have?

4. Lothrop. Lemuel Dove, servant boy, mariner, of the descendants of the Lothropists of Haverhill beyond what is given in the records of Haverhill and Wenham? I have good reason to consider that the John whose death "from old age" is recorded in Medford might have been one of the French Neutrals who were so promptly carried away from Acadia in 1755-56. I would like to obtain the line of Caleb Brooks Lothrop, who married Olivia Lamson in 1795.

(*3011.) 1. Collins, Bell. Will some one help me with the parentage of Abraham Gallow came from Holland to New Windsor, Orange County, N. Y., prior to the Revolutionary War. He built a grist mill, very which was destroyed when the British burned the town. He brought with him four children: Christopher, whose daughter, Catherine, married Adolphus Le Grand Lorrain, who married second Clark; and John, aged seven, who later married Catherine Bell. Can anyone give me Abraham Gallow's son, or date when Abraham Gallow arrived in this country? The children of Lieut. Ed Esther Gallow were, Christopher, married his cousin Mary Bell Phoebe, married William Bell, of Orange county, N. Y.; Catherine, married ——— Noyes; John, born 1761, married Jane Mc-Cain of Warwick, N. Y., 1825. Does any one know anything of the Bell family to which John Gallow's wife, wife of John Gallow, was a member?

2. Johnson, Mitchell. Charlotte Johnson, born near Florida, Orange County, N. Y., married Thomas Mitchell, who was a near relative of Richard M. Johnson, once Vice President and a hero of the War of 1812. Father and mother moved to Virginia and afterwards settled in Tennessee. Can anyone help me in finding more about Charlotte Johnson? She was one of eighteen to Colonel Cave Johnson of New York City. Colonel Johnson and Charlotte Mitchell were: Thomas, married Amelia Edsall, died 1845; Sarah, married Jacob Wyckoff, N. Y.; William, went to New York City; Betsey, married ——— Wilcox; Jane, born 1801, married ——— Gallow; E. E. MCK.

(*3018.) Sedgwick, Leverett. Captain John Leverett married, first, Sarah Sedgwick, in Hartford, Conn., 1647. Is it commonly said that she was probably a daughter of Major General Robert Sedgwick of Charlestown. Middlesex Registry of Deeds, however, shows that Francis Willoughby joined the estate of Major Robert Sedgwick, and the deeds run from Samuel Sedgwick, eldest daughter, then of Boston, and from Sam Sedgwick of Hartford, Conn. Samuel Sedgwick was evidently eldest son of Major and William specifying that he was the youngest son of Major Sedgwick. Who was Sarah Smith, wife of John Leverett himself, as would be natural to infer the title to part of which's widow, Joanna, sold two-seventeenths rights in the estate? Leverett and Colonel Francis Norton of Charlestown and this deed was witnessed by Captain John Leverett of Boston.

Robert Houghton of London, brewer, and father of Major Robert and Captain Thomas Houghton, married Mary Sedgwick, a sister of Major Robert and daughter of William Sedgwick. Captain Francis Norton married Mary, sister of Robert Houghton. The mother of Joanna Sedgwick, by her will, gives bequests to many grandchildren and to a niece. Besides a request to her "daughter Joan Sedgwicke," she mentions "the sons of my daughter Joan Sedgwicke."

As no grandchildren Sedgwicke is mentioned, and no Sarah Leverett appears as having any claim to Robert Sedgwick's estate, it seems safe to assume, in view of Robert Houghton's declaration, that Captain John Leverett was his brother-in-law and had married, probably, Sarah, daughter (4) of Major Robert Sedgwick. It is possible that Joanna Sedgwick's brother, Joanna's wife, were none here early, but returned to England again. Perhaps Sarah Sedgwick became one of Mrs. Leverett's brothers, also known of William Sedgwick, father of Major Sedgwick and his family, that property in Watery Gloucester?

(*3020.) Collins, Willett, as the Collins Rose are to be brought up again in these columns, and as many of them are a different Rose I would like to again bring out some of my Collins queries.

John Collins, married Abigail Collins, I assume, at Charlestown or Cambridge, as Wyman gives it, and in the Shrewsbury section due to Deacon Nathaniel Collins. The last part is an error, as the deacon's Abigail married Joseph Allen and was older than the Abigail who married John Willett.

John Willett, whom I assume to be the same person, and others with family of the same name, died at Salem, Mass., May 9, 1687. A very valuable will is recorded in Essex Probate, Vol. 299, page 122. Wife Abigail executrix.

John and Abigail Willett left mention in the church record of Reading. Other there and in the north part of what is now Lynnfield, before 1723. Have not found their deaths or burials. Sarah, their daughter, born (where?), tradition says Reading. He married, Dec. 10, 1741, Hannah Hay, and after his marriage his name is spelled Willy and Willey (about 1). He was published (intention) to Sarah Tuttle, Dec. 1, 1739.

Richard (3) Bolsbee, as given by J.G.B., in his Bolsbee genealogy, gives mention of Richard Bolsbee marrying a daughter of Samuel Wyman, and he married Abigail ———

Walker. I wish to be informed as to the ancestry of Captain Benjamin Walker of Chelmsford, who was executed at the Battle of Bunker Hill in 1775, and died in Boston prison.

The One Inspiring and at the Same Time Quiet Publication That Appears as Quietly as Ever Despite the War

By E. W. Thomas

Ottawa, Nov. 7.

EVERY Monday morning seems to me Ottawa, doth a great heap of Sunday and Saturday papers; with them, their belated ones from Northumberland, British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba, the Saturday and Sunday heap heading from Boston, New York, Toronto, etc. Official publications from Ottawa and Washington and London swell the pile. Magazines and reviews come irregularly to head out its dimensions. Old habit, with fear to miss anything important or interesting, drives me, Monday morning conscience to compel at least the opening and scanning of every page of the pile. The morning sheet, with its latest war headlines and war-dreams and diplotic efforts to cheer readers, does have one compensating Presents a rare strength on all fronties, demands that everything which it gives as matter of course on three nine Mondays in short four. This fourth one, about the beginning of each month, brings a double envelope addressed in a new familiar handwriting, containing a number of 24 little pages, 3 inches by 4, which, though addressing only the epic "Songs to the accompaniment of the Harp," are nevertheless such books to discover what the blessed have been doing in the month just ended, the rest of the printed mass aside. For he knows that the insatiable desire of the Ministry for more detailed delight, a most helpful prelude to the day's task of wading through black-and-white swamps of monster departments.

From perusal of the tiny Monthly one draws, as from a feast of new palatableness, a longing to inspect of what as has received, by way of tribute and gift, the fellow sojourners in this Vale of Soul-making. Here, more than in the "Atlantic," that leads unto monthly possession of the one and only existing Holy Ground of New England, spontaneous Light it is, springing from persistent actual reading. Of the devotion to Transcendentalism of Dr. Hearken by now to Voices of the Sisters of St. Ann "Communities" about the Care of Infants Half a Home for Children. Their meditations are rendered, the surnamed, by "Hams," to which relates all the professions. Before the reader's eyes the Veil of the Sisters disposal ——

"How different is life in the convent from what it was outside! What innocent delights are ours as, under the control (one of the Sisters) of Fairyland" and the powerful clockwork of Sister Cinderella, we move about the room, or, after our midday meal, wander with it the shady beauty of grounds! How we used to long and long for the time to come when, for the contemplation of beautiful things, we should be carried around in the bear, the Voices of the Sisters disposal ——

John (10) Lawrence of Rumburgh, married July 29, 1790, Ann Wright, who died May 21, 1795. In 1796 Lord North abandoned to his new York to South Kingston and about the Home—which Charleston had deliberately delayed for ten years—cannot but have joined to bear, the Voices of the Sisters disposal ——

*4859. 7. Robinson. W. W. N. Y., July 7, 1915. William (1) Robinson of Cambridge married, in 1667, Elizabeth, daughter of Richard Cutler and Elizabeth Williams (daughter of Robert Williams and Elizabeth Stalham). She was born July 15, 1645.

William (2) Robinson of Newton married Elizabeth Upham. William (1) was doubtless of a very good family, though for some reason he seems to have given no information as to his English home or forbears. However, he married into one of the best families in Cambridge, and numbers many distinguished men, governors authors, etc., among his descendants. Authority: "The Robinsons and Their Kin Folks," page 80. I think W. W. N. Y. and I must have several common ancestors, as many queries over this signature concerns lines I have been working on, though I am a very recent beginner. There are five distinct lines to Deacon Samuel Chapin, two to Robert Fletcher, Francis Lambert, Thomas Ward, Edward Fuller (Mayflower) and sundry Wheeler, Whitney, White (Resolved), Sumner, Greenleaf, Dodge, Perkins lines.
